Ship Workers Rush Back To Jobs as Strike Ends

LINERS ONCE AGAIN WILL SET SAIL

Several Disputes Are Unsettled, But Bulk Of Cargo Moves

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Workers flocked to the waterfront today and started commerce whirling again after the 98-day maritime strike that cost an estimated $86,000,000, paralyzed commerce on the sea and slowed industry on land, kept 40,000 strikers idle and tied up 239 ships.

Fires were started under cold boilers, winches were oiled to move piled up cargoes and hatches were opened by longshoremen.

Steam Proves Hunch
Sunshine bathed the waterfront as the maritime workers, eager to resume work, hurried to the piers from dispatching halls. Approximately 5,000 men congregated at the hiring halls.

Eighty-seven gangs of longshoremen, with 16 men to a gang, were sent to handle cargo on 22 ships.

There was a slight hitch because it required 12 hours or more to get up steam in the boilers to operate the winches, but the longshoremen did other work.

Liner Sails Saturday
Four hundred men went to pier 42 where the Dollar liner President Hoover was being prepared to sail late tomorrow. Its cargo included 3,000 bags of mail for the Orient.

The Indianan and the Golden Hind, American-Hawaiian freight-ers, were about ready to put to sea as soon as cleared by the wharfing.

Unsettled matters still threatened to interfere with complete resumption of commerce, but leaders of the unions and the employers hoped they would be settled amicably.

Some Unsettled
They included a strike at the Moore shipyards, which was picketed. Harry Scher, president of local 68 of the machinists, said the 400 men would remain on strike in nine shipyards until their pay was raised from 90 cents to $1 an hour.

CANNON LOSES LIBEL SUIT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts won a directed verdict today in a $500,000 libel suit brought against him by Bishop James Cannon, Jr.

Justice Jennings Bailey of federal district court ordered the jury to find for the Republican Massachusetts congressman after hearing lengthy arguments yesterday by Tinkham's counsel to end the case without presentation of defense testimony.

The suit was filed by Cannon,
a Southern Methodist churchman, as the result of a statement made by Tinkham regarding the bishop's handling of 1928 anti-Alfred E. Smith campaign funds. Tinkham, on a challenge by Cannon, repeated to reporters remarks he had made on the house floor.

Rescue Miner Lost 8 Days

FLEMINGTON, W. Va. (AP)— Eight foodless days of utter darkness while lost in the debris-choked passageways of an abandoned mine ended today for Robert Johnson, 36-year-old rural mail carrier.

"I sure thought I was a goner,"
he said.

He told from his cot in a hospital of praying through the long hours in the damp mine, of giving up all hope, then of seeing a dim glow of lamps carried by rescue workers.

"Thank God, my prayers were

Kidnaped, Slain

Dr. J. C. B. Davis (above), Willow Springs, Mo., physician, was found shot to death in an Ozark mountain thicket a week after he had been kidnaped and held for $5,000 ransom. Department of justice agents held Robert Kenyon, 20, on charges of slaying the 67-year-old doctor. (Associated Press

RABID CANINE BITES TEN

Fullerton Folk Undergo Pasteur Treatment
As Dog Dies

Ten Fullerton residents, bitten by a two-month-old puppy later found to be rabid, today were undergoing Pasteur treatment at the Orange county hospital.

At the same time a report was received from San Clemente by the county health department of another rabid dog there, owned by Joe Martinez. The circumstances were not learned, nor if anyone had been bitten by the animal.

All the Fullerton victims were residents of the 400 block on East Truslow street, and were bitten while playing with the puppy. The dog was run over yesterday and killed, but examination of his head showed him to be rabid.

Those bitten are Clarence Renfro, 11; Gloria Renfro, 4; Loreta Smith, 21; Louisa Smith, 4; Mrs.
Mary Kennan, 20; Leroy Rees, 10; and L. Rees, his mother; Elmer Lee Smith, 9; Mrs. Jeanette Saviers, and an unidentified boy.

Health Officer Dr. K. H. Sutherland today issued another warning to Orange county pet owners, stating that 20 people have been bitten by rabid animals within the past two months.

He urged that owners of pets noticeably acting queerly contact a veterinarian or the health department at once.

Ethyl Gas Goes Up 1 Cent Today

Motorists using ethyl gasoline began paying one cent a gallon more for the fuel today.

Oil companies operating in Orange county today boosted the price of ethyl gasoline one cent, bringing it up to 20½ cents a gallon. Service station operators said the move was made to re-establish a three-cent differential between ethyl and first-grade gasoline.

Price on first-grade gasoline remains at 17½ cents.

LEVEE HOLDS MISSISSIPPI IN CHECK

Army Maintains Force
Of Guards on Long Flood Front

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A battered but unyielding levee line repulsed the Mississippi's greatest crest today while rehabilitation, control and relief problems engaged the flood-scourged Ohio valley and the nation's congress.

Army engineers maintained a force of 120,000 river fighters along the defenses to keep the country's worst flood from multiplying its cruel toll of 395 dead, nearly 1,000,000 homeless and $550,000,000 in property loss.

Recedes At Cairo
The Mississippi was receding slowly in the Cairo, Ill., sector today, and, barring storms, that would send the muddy waters smashing against its improvised dikes, engineers considered the battle won but promised a ceaseless watch for days and perhaps weeks to come.

President Roosevelt's $5,011-000,000 public works program to curb raiding rivers lay before a congress receptive to flood control plans. The proposal calls for a plan of water control for the Ohio and Mississippi in combination with a six-year program of public works.

Senators Offer Plan
Senators Norris, Nebraska,
"daddy" of the Tennessee Valley Authority act, offered a proposal to handle the flood problem by creating "enough TVA's to cover the entire country." Such a program, he contended, would mean the maximum navigation development, the maximum flood control, the maximum reforestation, the maximum correction of soil erosion, and the maximum amount of water power.

Along the Ohio the hardest hit towns emerged from the flood waters and began thinking in terms of reconstruction.

Cincinnati reported a shopping
"boom" reminiscent of holiday trade as stores reopened to meet buyers' long denied needs.

The Ohio overflow continued to retreat from Louisville at the rate of three feet a day, leaving the city with an acute housing problem.

HOLDUP PAIR IS SOUGHT

Sheriff's officers today were searching for two bandits who held up an independent service station proprietor night before last, tied his ankles and wrists with baling wire and escaped with $28.75 in cash.

The victim, George W. Lounsbury, was so incoherent from fright and shock officers were unable to secure an account of the holdup until today.

He told police two men had entered his station, on 101 highway, near Katella road, late Wednesday night. They seized and bound him, and placed him in his garage, where he was found some time later.

Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff
Merle Dean said today a good lead as to identity of the two had been secured, although Lounsbury was unable to give any description.

G. M. TO OUST STRIKERS

National Guard Asked
To Aid in Ejecting
Men from Plants

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—General Motors attorneys obtained a court writ today ordering the arrest of striking occupying two Fisher Body plants here, and announced that Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott had requested the aid of the national guard in enforcing the order.

That announcement came from Ralph Gault, of counsel for General Motors here. He said the request was made by telephone to Gov. Frank Murphy in Detroit.

Col. Joseph H. Lewis, national guard commander in the Flint area, said he had received no instruction from the governor to order the troops into action.

Capt. Phil Pack, press representative of the national guard who participated in a conference at which the writs of attachment were issued, said the sheriff had gone to Fisher plant No. 2 to read the order to approximately 200
"stay-in" strikers. Capt. Pack said there would be no physical attempt to enforce the writ "for the present."

The No. 2 Fisher plant is within a military zone established around the Chevrolet Motor company plant where violence occurred Monday. There are no troops in the vicinity of Fisher plant No. 1, occupied by approximately 1,400 strikers.

Arline Judge Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The marital rift between Arline Judge, screen actress, and Wesley Ruggles, film director, which has led them to live apart frequently in recent months, is approaching the stage of divorce.

On the fourth birthday anniversary of their son, Charles Wesley, the actress filed a divorce complaint charging mental cruelty.

"For at least a year," Miss Judge said in her complaint, the director "has treated the plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner."

BOLT ON LICENSES LOOSELY

Then They'll Vibrate, Lady

The license plate rush is over—but there's one lady in Orange county who is unhappy. She has her plates, too. But they don't vibrate.

As highway patrol officers leaned back and took a good rest last night when they closed the doors after distributing some 17-000 sets of auto licenses, they remembered lots of things.

The guy who wants his telephone number is nothing new. Nor is the fellow who's had 3 X 456 for years and can't understand why he can't have it this time.

Sheriff Warns Cities Punch Boards Must Go

HANDS EDICT TO POLICE CHIEFS

Will Confiscate Devices
If Local Officers Do Not Act Soon

Punch boards must go!
Either police chiefs will clear them out of their respective cities, or the sheriff will.

Sheriff Logan Jackson, following a conference with District Attorney W. F. Menton and Santa Ana Police Chief Floyd Howard yesterday, issued an edict to that effect to every police chief in Orange county.

Ruling of Attorney General U.
S. Webb and District Attorney Menton has been to the effect that the boards themselves may not be illegal, but the manner of their operation has been.

To Be Seized
Wherever a punch board is found operating in an illegal manner, it will be confiscated.

The sheriff said today unincorporated areas of the county are "cleaned up." Cities are next.

"I have no choice in this matter," he said. "I'm operating as requested to by Attorney General Webb, and I'm going to continue doing so until the punch board and other petty gambling rackets in the county are cleaned up."

Howard to Act
Chief Howard yesterday replied to Sheriff Jackson's edict by announcing he would inform all operators and operators of places in Santa Ana where punch boards are located just what the rules governing their operation are.

He did not elaborate on this statement, but admitted Jackson had told him to "get busy," or the sheriff would.

Immediately following his conference yesterday, Jackson and Deputy James Workman started out on a tour of the county, in which they inspected the unincorporated areas, and contacted all police chiefs.

50 Boards Taken
No further confiscations were made.

His office, he said today, has picked up about 50 punch boards, varying from $1000 to $100 boards, all in the unincorporated areas.

In each instance of confiscation, deputies played the boards, and were paid off illegally, before confiscation was made.

Attorney General Webb today was holding a second conference on the petty gambling question, with police officers from 32 California counties. Two weeks ago he conferred with representatives of the other 26 counties, including Sheriff Jackson and District Attorney Menton.

STATE WPA HEAD IS NOMINATED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated William R. Lawson to be works progress administrator for California.

Duke Due to Wed Wally April 27

VIENNA. (AP)—The Duke of Windsor plans to marry
Mrs. Wallis Simpson on April 27 at either the Enzesfeld castle of Baron Eugene Rothschild or in Vienna, a usually reliable source disclosed today. This is the exact date on which Mrs. Simpson's divorce decree from Ernest Aldrich Simpson supposedly will become final.

The former British monarch wants his fiancée to arrive in Vienna April 24, three days before the proposed date for the wedding ceremony.

He emphasized, however, that these current plans are subject to change—particularly after the duke confers with his sister, the Countess of Harewood (the princess royal), who will arrive in Vienna Sunday.

The informant added the wedding probably would be held at Enzesfeld because the expenses there would be less than in the Austrian capital, "and the duke must watch his pennies."

The princess royal and the duke will discuss the wedding plans.
It also was learned the duke had expressed a desire to move from the castle to an inexpensive Alpine hotel. But he was dissuaded by his royal relatives, who cautioned him against bringing any publicity upon himself.

As "master of the castle" in the absence of his host and hostess, the Baron and Baroness Rothschild, the duke is obligated to pay the wages of the domestic staff for several months, today's informant stated.

The Rothschilds are now in Paris.

PARLIAMENT MAY DENY ALLOWANCE TO DUKE
LONDON. (AP)—Informal sources said today individual members of parliament are attempting to prevent the marriage of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Simpson by marshaling opposition to a proposed $125,000 annual allowance to former King Edward.

One observer described the members' attitude this way:
"If the duke holds to his decision to wed the American woman for love of whom he renounced the throne, he must support her from his funds without help from the British treasury."

WPA QUOTA IS GIVEN BOOST

The Orange county WPA quota was increased by 110 today.

Dan Mulherron, chief of the WPA in Orange county, announced that 110 men have been added to the quota of the district, which comprises Orange and San Diego counties, and that the entire allocation has been given to this county.

Mulherron said that at first it was thought that but 90 additional men would be given jobs here, but the quota was boosted by 110 instead.

The Orange county quota now stands at 2,244, of which 1,444 are in the works division and 800 in the PTWW division.

A request by Mulherron to state WPA officials that Orange county's quota be boosted by 1,000 men because of the number which are expected to lose work because of the recent freezes, was turned down by state officials.

Driver Arrested After Car Skids

Arrested on drunk driving charges after a new car he was delivering to San Diego skidded and overturned south of El Toro this morning, Melton Finch, 1547 Court street, Los Angeles, was in the county jail today.

Finch, California Highway patrol officers reported, had been delivering autos during the maritime strike through a system whereby dealers in Los Angeles and San Diego exchanged cars with one another so deliveries might be made. They reported his car slid 300 feet before overturning.

S. A. Boosters to Attend Coast Meet

Three representatives of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce are expected to attend the meeting of the Orange County Coast association next Tuesday night in Laguna Beach.

They are W. E. Baker, chairman of the chamber committee on representation at the coast association and Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county meetings, Fred G. Merker and E.
B. Sharpley.

ASKS POWER TO ADD SIX JUSTICES

Recommendations Deal With Retirement and Speedier Decisions

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt recommended to congress today a sweeping reorganization of federal court machinery that would increase the judgeships of the supreme and lower courts and speed high court decisions on constitutional questions.

Accompanying his surprise message the President presented a tentative draft of a bill that would give the chief executive power to increase the supreme court by a maximum of six justices to 15, and the lower courts by two members each unless judges over 70 years of age retired.

"These proposals do not raise any issue of constitutional law," the President said, listing four specific recommendations, as follows:

1. Power for the President to nominate an additional judge in any court when an incumbent has reached the age of 70, has held office for 10 years and within six months after reaching 70 has neither resigned or retired.

2. Power for the supreme court to appoint an administrative assistant or "proctor" to watch lower court calendars and permit the chief justice to assign district and circuit judges temporarily to areas where the dockets are congested.

3. Provision that no decision, injunction, judgment or decree on any constitutional question be promulgated by any federal court without previous and ample notice to the attorney general of the United States and an opportunity for the United States to present evidence and be heard.

4. Provision that when any inferior court determines a question of constitutionality, there shall be a direct and immediate appeal to the supreme court, and that such cases take precedence over all other matters pending in that court.

The President's message also was accompanied by a letter from

WILL TRY JONES FOR KILLING

M. A. "Buck" Jones of Costa Mesa must stand trial in superior court on charges of killing Ed Clark in a poolroom fight in Newport last week. He is charged with two counts of manslaughter.

Jones was held to answer under $250 bond yesterday after an all-day preliminary hearing in Santa Ana justice court yesterday, featured by Jones' taking the stand to tell his story.

Alleging he struck Clark on the head with his fist in self-defense, the former boxer testified he believed Clark was reaching for a beer glass to strike him after an argument over a racing dog.

Questioned by Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker, the defendant admitted the glass was a light tumbler and not a heavy steak.

Medical testimony as to the cause of Clark's death took up much of the morning session, indicating his death was the result of a hemorrhage between two layers of skull tissue, caused by Clark's striking the bar rail with his head after he fell from the blow Jones assertedly struck.

Jones posted $250 bond and was freed pending trial in the higher court. Hearing on a felonious assault charge, filed before Clark died, is pending in justice court.

MAY HALT CASE ON ORANGES

State agricultural authorities may halt this afternoon their court action here to condemn 731 boxes of assorted frozen oranges held by S. E. Fusco, Inc., at Fullerton.

Fusco may be given an opportunity to sort and grade the fruit to make it conform with state tolerances for frost damage, it was reported this morning. The condemnation hearing had been set for 2 p. m. today in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court.

T. D. McCall, state agricultural standardization inspector from Sacramento, was here this morning to confer with Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs and others concerning the condemnation action.

McCall, who issued the complaint calling for condemnation of Fusco's fruit, also discussed with Tubbs other phases of the drive to keep damaged fruit off the markets.

The Purple Arrow - -

Fran Haven thought she was to be his secretary.
She discovered soon that she was his prisoner. Why he—and his wife—should want to hold her captive the young American girl could not imagine. She was not rich. They were not insane. But terror gripped her none the less. And her terror grew after the scene in the library, when she found the card with the Purple Arrow on it. You'll be thrilled by this brilliant and baffling new novel which starts Monday in The Journal
—Orange county's fastest growing newspaper.

PEDESTRIAN IS INJURED BY CAR

Driver Says Victim in Accident Stepped in Front of Auto

Badly injured when he stepped in front of a moving automobile last night near the Arches intersection, Harold Wright, 40 Costa Mesa, was in St. Joseph's hospital today.

Wright was struck by a car driven by G. E. Thompson, 47, Laguna Beach, as he crossed the highway. Thompson said the pedestrian apparently became confused, stepped out of the other traffic lane, and walked into the path of the auto. His injuries were considered serious.

Mrs. I. Arlund, 2454 North Park boulevard, was in Santa Ana Valley hospital today under treatment for painful injuries resulting from a crash at Walnut and Main streets yesterday afternoon.

A car driven by Mrs. Arnold's daughter, Mrs. H. T. Jackson, traveling east on Walnut street, was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Harry R. Griffith, 209 Highland avenue, when, police said, Mrs. Jackson missed a boulevard stop sign. Her car overturned, injuring her mother. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Phillips, other passengers in the Jackson car, were uninjured.

A 12-year-old Japanese boy, Niro Yohuimi, 404 West Fourth street, was treated by a physician for cuts and bruises yesterday afternoon after his bicycle was struck by a car driven by Clarence Eugene of Santa Ana.

Two Los Angeles Mexicans were slightly injured last night after their car ran through a boulevard stop at La Mirada road and Grand avenue last night, struck a stone wall and overturned. Ralph Carozza, 20, and Joe Liguero, 20, escaped serious injury, according to California Highway patrol reports.

Lawyer Defends Two By Same Name

Robert Gardner, Newport Beach attorney, today found himself defending two Esquivels on criminal charges.

He is associated with Attorney Roland Thompson in defending Jesus Esquivel in a murder trial started two weeks ago and suspended by the flu epidemic.

Today Superior Judge James L. Allen appointed Gardner to represent Julio Esquivel and Raul Salcido, who face auto theft charges.

Debris-Littered Street in Flood Area

Scenes like this one in Louisville, Ky., were common as yellow, muddy flood waters of the Ohio river slowly backed out of invaded territory. Topped shacks, driftwood and parts of homes were strewn about the streets. Refugees and relief workers searched the streets to salvage all useable goods. (Associated Press Photo) hour, and they were granted a 40-hour instead of the present 44-hour week.

The Matson liner Malolo, scheduled to sail Feb. 27, was in the picketed union iron works.

There also was the problem of transporting sailors and other personnel to ships in the stream, because of the tugboatmen's strike.

Service Speeded Disputes involving waterfront workers remained unsettled at two ports, but signing of new contracts last night by shipowners and the seven striking marine unions closed the nation's costliest maritime labor dispute.

Shipowners vied with each other to get the first vessels under way. Longshoremen and seamen besieged hiring headquarters for available jobs. Merchants competed for service in obtaining strike-bound cargoes or booking space for shipments. One line invoked a "seniority rule" to accommodate a rush for passenger accommodations.

The end of the strike was announced at 2:45 p. m. yesterday by Henry Schmidt, chairman of the strikers' publicity committee. The men returned to work at 8 a. m. today.

40,000 Grateful "Forty thousand men are grateful," commented Strike Leader Harry Bridges. "I'm only one of many."

Shipowners, in the scramble to get commerce moving and regain lost markets, deferred comment, but engaged time on a national radio network (NBC blue, 7:30 p. m.) tonight to express their attitude and gratification.

The strikers themselves ended the walkout by an overwhelming vote, except in one instance, accepting negotiated agreements. These generally provide higher wages, union control of hiring and longshoremen and unlicensed seamen, the eight-hour day or less, and adjusted working conditions. Licensed officers and engineers got wage increases and union recognition.

Firemen Obstinate Maritime firemen rejected an agreement which their negotiating committee did not recommend but will vote on a revised agreement, meanwhile returning to work. The revisions have to do with overtime wage scales and several minor issues.

A strike of tug-boat deckhands in San Pedro, and a stand of East coast seamen and truck drivers were irritants in the Southern California harbor. Walkouts here for several unions affiliated with the International Longshoremen's association remained unsettled. The strikers principally comprise workers in shipbuilding yards and repair centers.

Truck Pickets Busy The eastern seamen declared they would not permit work on East coast vessels tied up until operators meet the terms awarded West coast seamen.

The union truck drivers' local said picket lines would be set up at coast ports in an effort to unionize all drivers handling waterfront cargo.

Several vessels, freight and passenger, expected to sail from here before the end of the week, and one, the coastal lumber schooner Alvarado, planned to clear for Portland, Ore., this afternoon.

$7,000,000 Daily Cost Business interests, which estimated the strike cost $7,000,000 daily said its close rescued 1000 firms and 500 exporting offices from slowly failing. It opened the way for resumption of formal operations by hundreds of industries dependent upon marine shipping.

Shippers estimated $50,000,000 worth of cargo awaited movement on or off 78 strikebound vessels here. In Los Angeles harbor 234,000 tons of cargo and 84 ships were on hand. A similar situation existed in Pacific Northwest ports.

HONOLULU STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

HONOLULU. (P)—Eight hundred striking maritime workers returned to work today after unanimously balloting last night to provisionally man tie-up ships here.

A spokesman for the strikers said the men voted unanimously

Mother of Three 'Weds' Girl to Save Her Honor

NEW YORK. (P)—A mother of three children, posing as a man, went through a marriage ceremony with a 16-year-old girl to protect her "honor" it was disclosed in magistrate's court when two Chinese were arraigned on statutory charges.

They were accused of assaulting the "bride," who it was said, is an expectant mother.

The "bridegroom" known in Bronx taverns as "Tom Collins," disappeared when her identity was disclosed after the ceremony, and is being sought by police.

royal, in which the Water Queen was ejected from the pumphouse and the neighbors took it over after she had turned off their water.

She claimed she hadn't been paid water bills.

But yesterday's scheduled trial proved a dud when State Senator Harry C. Westover, attorney for the defendants, found a quirk in the code of civil procedure.

Mrs. Bates had filed an affidavit of bias and prejudice against Justice Chris Pann of Huntington Beach township. Justice D. J. Dodge of Costa Mesa was ready to act. Mrs. Bates was there. Her witnesses were there. Ray Overacker, her attorney, was there.

But no senator.

Senator Westover had called Judge Pann on the telephone. It seems there is a paragraph under Section 595 of the code which provides that an attorney who is a member of the legislature can refuse to go to trial until 30 days after the legislature's final adjournment.

So he stood on his rights, and there was no trial. It probably will be June or July now.

Meanwhile Westover said arrangements were being made with the Mountain Properties, Inc., to take the water plant and operate it for the Silver Acres people.

Which would leave Mrs. Bates out in the cold.

Mrs. Bates claims she still holds her $5 lease to the property. Westover said he found, in the state controller's office in Sacramento, that it had been cancelled.

K. C. Card Party Is Big Success

Knights of Columbus realized social and financial success in the benefit card party staged last night in the K. of C. hall to raise money for their charity fund, $5 tables being reserved for bridge and 500.

Prizes in bridge games were won by Mrs. F. B. Alaire and James Murphy, high, and Mrs. Anton Borchard and C. Geoghegan, low, and 500 awards went to Miss Marguerite Holtz and Alvin Holtz, high, and Mrs. Joe Haupt and Allen A. Mandy, low.

The men made all the arrangements and served a light supper at the close. Proceeds from the affair go into the fund which the organization keeps on hand to aid their members who need emergency help.

to return on the understanding of their union activities.

Randolph Sevier, head of Castle and Cooke's steamship department, reiterated today the stand of shipowners that they would not discriminate but would not recognize the union.

PLANT MAY RETIRE; ROTH CONSIDERED

SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—The Chronicle today said Thomas G. Plant, chief representative for Pacific coast waterfront employers during both the 1934 and just-concluded waterfront strikes, will retire from that post if a successor satisfactory to the shipowners can be found.

Almon E. Roth, controller of Stanford university, the paper said, is considered a possible successor to Plant, who is vice president and general manager of the American-Hawaiian Steamship company.

MORE ABOUT HIGH COURT

Attorney General Cummings asserting delay in administration of justice "is the outstanding defect of our federal judicial system."

Before sending the bulky document to the capitol, the chief executive went over the whole subject at a special cabinet meeting attended also by Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead, Democratic Leaders Robinson and Rayburn, and Chairman Ashurst (D., Ariz.) and Summers (D., Texas) of the senate and house judiciary committees.

Explains Message This meeting caused a half hour delay in the President's regular press conference at which he read the entire message and explained it.

He said he was urging no compulsory retirement of judges but asserted the necessity for "relieving present congestion extends to the enlargement of capacity of all the federal courts."

He added, however, that a part of the problem of obtaining a sufficient number of judges to dispose of cases "is the capacity of the judges themselves."

"This brings forward the question of aged or infirm judges," he said, "and it is one which requires frank discussion."

Mr. Roosevelt said in his message, 25 Eligibles to Retire The President said there were 237 life tenure judgeships in the federal courts, 25 held by judges over 70 and eligible to leave the bench on full pay.

Life tenure, assured by the constitution, he said, was designed to place the courts "beyond temptations of influences which might impair their judgments; it was not intended to create a static judiciary. A constant and systematic addition of younger blood will vitalize the courts and better equip them to recognize and apply the essential concepts of justice in the light of the needs and the facts of an ever-changing world."

The bill would limit the total number of judges to be added in all courts to 50. Six of the present nine supreme court justices are past 70 and under the proposed bill they would have the same retirement privileges that are now accorded lower court judges.

The latter may now retire on full pay, but a supreme court justice must resign to obtain full pay.

No Constitutional Issue "These proposals," the President said, "do not raise any issue of constitutional law. They do not suggest any form of compulsory retirement for incumbent judges."

"Indeed, those who have reached the retirement age, but desire to continue their judicial work, would be able to do so under less physical and mental strain and would be able to play a useful part in relieving the growing congestion in the business of our courts."

"Among them are men of eminence and great ability whose services the government would be loath to lose. If, on the other hand, any judge eligible for retirement should feel that his court would suffer because of an increase in its membership, he may retire or resign under already existing provisions of law if he wishes so to do."

Plan Has Approval "In this connection let me say that the pending proposal to extend to the justices of the supreme court the same retirement privileges now available to other federal judges, has my entire approval."

Near the close of the message, Mr. Roosevelt said it dealt with four "present needs."

"First," he said, "to eliminate congestion of calendars and to make the judiciary as a whole less static by the constant and systematic addition of new blood to its personnel; second, to make the judiciary more elastic by providing for temporary transfers of circuit and district judges to those places where the federal courts are most in arrears; third, to furnish the supreme court practical assistance in supervising the conduct of business in the lower courts; fourth, to eliminate inequality, uncertainty and delay now existing in the determination of constitutional questions involving federal statutes."

Reactions Bubble If all of these things were done, he asserted, "we shall go a long way toward our high objectives."

FERTILIZER TESTS ARE SOUGHT STORES HERE NOT HIT BY STRIKE

Extension of the Tennessee Valley Authority fertilizer experiment work in Orange county loomed as a possibility today.

President D. R. Gardner of the Orange County Farm bureau today named a special committee to study the possibility of securing an extension of the TVA fertilizer work to Orange county growers.

The matter came up at a monthly meeting of the Farm bureau board of directors. Gardner named J. J. Denni, Cypress; S. W. Stanley, Tustin, and E. G. Warner, Santa Ana, on the special committee.

Thousands of Tons It was brought out that under the TVA project 100,000 tons of nitrogenous fertilizers highly concentrated in quality are being manufactured by the government from an experimental standpoint and is made available to the farmers in respective states. So far nothing has been done in California.

The Farm bureau is waging a fight for the government to maintain a yardstick program on fertilizers and power costs throughout the country so that they would be available to all sections of the nation.

The purpose is to force private industry to make the type of fertilizer best adapted to agriculture rather than the kind where the greatest profit must lie, and likewise to force utility companies to extend their business to agriculture on a lower rate, it was said.

Board Change Changes in the farm bureau board of directors which took place at the meeting included John Osterman, Tustin, succeeding Trafford Watson, Olive, as representative of the forestry department; William Greeley, Costa Mesa, succeeding R. J. Mitchell, Irvine, from the vegetable department; and L. R. Schofield succeeding J. J. Denni from the Cypress-Magnolia Farm center.

Directors discussed their program to help Farm bureau members whose crops were injured by the recent freezes. One of the first steps to be taken will be to ask all Farm bureau members who are in distress to contact either their center officers or the county Farm bureau office so that the type of assistance needed in the county can be ascertained soon.

Water Report J. A. Murdy, jr., chairman of the water committee, submitted a report showing that his committee has gone actively to work and had divided itself into three subcommittees. The first, dealing with flood control problems, consists of J. E. Lewis, Yorba Linda, chairman, Dr. Lee C. Deming, Anaheim, and F. D. Plavan, Capistrano.

The committee on Metropolitan water district work consists of S. W. McCullagh, Fullerton, chairman, William Bielefeldt, Placentia, and E. E. Campbell, Orange. The third, on water use, consists of H. Clay Kellogg, Garden Grove, chairman, J. J. Denni, Cypress, and H. J. Burdorf, Fullerton.

Fatal Gas Blast Wrecks Building

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—A terrific explosion of gas accumulated during the flood shattered a three-story brick building in the business section here today and killed, according to police estimates, from two to 14 persons. More than a score were injured.

Rumanian Prince Now Recovered

FLORENCE, Italy. (P)—Michael, 15-year-old crown prince of Rumania, "is completely recovered" from an appendicitis operation and a touch of influenza, it was officially announced today.

Senators and representatives listened intently as they heard Mr. Roosevelt's words read, eagerly snapping up copies of the text and the accompanying letter from Attorney General Cummings, for study.

Reactions bubbled immediately some so forthrightly that they recalled the comment occasioned when Mr. Roosevelt remarked that the supreme court's invalidation of NRA was a return to "horse-and-buggy days."

Snell Attacks Him This phrase resounded in the presidential campaign in Republican criticisms of Mr. Roosevelt. Representative Snell, the Republican leader who presided over the party's last national convention, quickly commented.

"The administration already has destroyed the economic stability of the country. Now it proposes to destroy the judicial stability. This is pretty nearly the beginning of the end of everything."

Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, as quickly issued a prepared statement in behalf of the President's plan—there had been a special White House round-table discussion with the cabinet and congressional leaders before it went to Capitol hill—but some other Democrats were on the other side. Senator King (D., Utah) flatly announced his opposition.

Affects Six Judges "It is an ostentatious request for power to pack the courts," said Senator Austin (R., Vt.), but Senator Guffey (D., Pa.) told reporters, "I'm 100 per cent for it."

Supreme court justices who would be affected by the President's retirement plan are: Van Devanter, McReynolds, Butler and Sutherland—regarded by many lawyers as the "conservative" justices—and Chief Justice Hughes and Brandeis, the last of whom has been considered by attorneys as a "liberal."

Santa Ana's merchants got off easy in the maritime strike.

Due primarily to the city's location, merchants here order almost entirely from warehouses in the Los Angeles district, rather than direct from manufacturers, who might ship by water.

For that reason few shipments of Christmas goods consigned to Santa Ana were held up by the ship walkout.

Wholesalers in the Los Angeles area probably were hit by the strike, and forced to re-order goods by rail, merchants here said, but the Santa Ana merchants for the most part simply waited for their goods to arrive.

One Santa Ana retailer, he said yesterday, had two shipments coming by water held up at San Pedro due to the strike. Both were consignments of Christmas goods, and the concern probably will incur a loss, as it was forced to reorder by rail.

An increase of about 15 per cent in shipping costs was incurred.

Local food dealers have several loads of goods awaiting delivery from San Pedro. Delay in their arrival will not increase prices, they said, as they were bought on contract.

REALTORS STUDY SCHOOL PLAN

A new movement to bring about consolidation of property owned by the school board was launched this afternoon by the Santa Ana Realty board.

Suggested by W. F. Crodgy, the plan is to put the property owned by the school board into such shape that it would bring more benefits than under the present system. President Earl B. Hawkes named Asa Hoffman, Carl Mock and Charles Aubrey on the committee which will study the situation and report back to the realtors.

Senator Harry Westover briefly outlined the problems facing the state legislature. He said that he believes that no bill affecting the Huntington Beach oil field will be passed without a compromise which will be on a basis fair to all parties concerned.

Concerning taxation, he said he does not believe in changing the present state taxation program until at least 1939, when the state expects to be out of the "red" and have a surplus of from 25 to 30 million dollars. He said he does not believe the gross transactions tax will get much consideration in the legislature.

IOWA APPOINTS GRID MENTOR

IOWA CITY, Iowa. (P)—Iowa's football fortunes, at a low ebb last season, were entrusted today to a soft spoken southerner named Iri Tubbs.

The athletic board's search for a successor to Ossie Solem as head grid mentor of the Hawkeyes ended yesterday when Tubbs' appointment was announced. Solem resigned to become head coach at Syracuse university.

IMPEACHMENT OF SHERIFF ORDERED

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (P)—Impeachment proceedings against the sheriff of Henry county, scene of a lynching Monday night, was ordered yesterday, simultaneous with a call for a special grand jury investigation.

Attorney General Albert Carmichael said Gov. Elbert Graves directed him to file the action against Sheriff Louie Corbett, from whom a mob seized Wes Johnson, 18-year-old negro accused of attacking a white woman.

Carmichael said the sheriff would be charged with "neglect of duty."

'PIANO POET' WILL PLAY IN S. A.

"Poet of the Piano" is the title often assigned to Homer Simmons, young American pianist, who will come to Santa Ana on Friday evening, Feb. 19, as the third of the artists being brought here in the Behymer-Wilson artist course series.

Arrangements for the concert, as in previous ones, are in the hands of the Musical Arts club of Santa Ana, local sponsors of the series, with Clarence Gustlin as manager.

Homer Simmons, considered by the great Paderewski as America's outstanding pianist, studied under that artist for several seasons and he carries on all the traditions for which Paderewski has become famous.

While still in his early twenties, Simmons has won an enviable reputation as a composer as well as a pianist. His "Phantasmia," for solo piano and orchestra, was played in Bournemouth, England, under Sir Dan Godfrey, and at the Hollywood bowl under the baton of Eugene Goossens, with Simmons as soloist.

SPORT CARNIVAL HERE TONIGHT

An athletic carnival featuring badminton and swimming will be sponsored by the Letterman's club of Santa Ana High school in Andrews' gymnasium, on the prep campus, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

There will be a nominal admission for the program, which will be open to the public.

Such well-known swimmers as Jim Ghilula, the U. S. C. champion; John Paulsen and Roger Hatch, Hollywood Athletic club stars, and John Riley, brother of the Olympic diving champion, Mickey Riley, have promised to appear.

Miss Twila Heath, Santa Ana badminton champion, and a strong competitor, Velma Dunn, will give exhibitions with Don Elursole, California men's finalist.

S. A. Clark, Santa Ana's famed strong man who is in his seventies, will give demonstrations of his strength.

Jujitsu also is on the program.

U. C. Prexy Will Talk Here Feb. 17

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, and the university's glee club will appear before Orange county alumni here Feb. 17.

Alumni of the university at Berkeley and U. C. L. A. will gather here for the program, to be preceded by a dinner in the American Legion hall. The dinner, to cost $1, is open to alumni and their guests only.

Robert Sibley, executive manager of the alumni association, and his assistant, Floyd Blower of Santa Ana, will also appear.

Reservations are being made with Fred Forgy, 204 First National bank building, telephone 2222.

Solons Seek Aid For Citrus Men

Two California members of congress are seeking federal aid for citrus growers injured by the recent freezes.

Promising to sponsor whatever legislation may be necessary, Senator McAdoo urged the Reconstruction Finance corporation to make loans to growers for buying orchard heaters. Representative Dockweiler of Los Angeles requested the Farm Credit administration to order federal land banks to extend liberal credit to tide growers over the next season.

Legislation will be offered as soon as officials of loaning agencies have reported the exact measures required and the amount of assistance demanded.

IMMIGRATION PRISONERS

Frank Sinohuir, 34, of Escondido, today started serving a four months sentence in the Orange county jail for violation of the national immigration laws. Rafael Salgado, 27, of Calexico, also started serving a six months sentence for a similar offense. Both men were arrested by the United States Marshal's office.

BALL FUND AIDE ASSIGN ROLES FOR COMEDY

Mrs. Claudia Worswick was named today as one of the three members of an advisory committee Postmaster Frank Harwood will select to handle expenditure of funds secured through the President's Birthday ball.

One member will be selected from the board of the Orange County Crippled Children's society, and another from the ranks of private citizens.

Harwood, who served as general chairman of the celebration, announced today he will meet with the board of directors of the crippled children's group a week from today to make arrangements on the expenditure of the money. The crippled children's group will recommend cases to be helped.

A net profit of $189.65 was realized from the three events staged here. Thirty per cent of that amount has been sent to the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia, institute which helps children afflicted with infantile paralysis. All the balance of the money will be expended in Santa Ana.

Tom Carson Buys New Race Horse

Adding to an already sizable number of racehorses quartered in the harbor district, Tom Carson of Newport announced today that he had purchased "Mumtaz," promising 2-year-old from the Marshbank stables.

The youngster has shown considerable promise in workouts, Carson said today, and will be given her first taste of competition at Tanforan, which opens 10 days after Santa Anita closes.

ASSIGN ROLES FOR COMEDY

Leading roles in the Victor Herbert musical comedy, "Sweethearts," which will be produced by the local high school March 17 and 18, were assigned today after a week of tryouts. Judges were Herbert G. Bickel, producing director, Dan Stover of the music department, Miss Marion Bruner of the physical education department, and Miss Helen Kirkland of the social science department.

Margaret Davies will enact the role of Sylvia, the prima donna, while Ruth Switzler, also a lyric soprano, will play the ingenue role of Liane, a French milliner who causes many complications in the plot.

The hero role of Prince Franz will be played alternately by Bruce Buell and Stanley Sebastian, Bickel said, while the dashing young Lieutenant Karl, who breaks all feminine hearts, will be sung by Stanley Pearson.

Other roles in the not-yet-completed cast will be sung by Dempsey Pride, Jack Dutton, Richard Coleman, Chester Clark and Herbert Scott.

DON WILKIE'S NARRATIVE ON KVOE

No Self-Control Results in Death by Hanging in Current Tale

Would you imagine that the lack of self-control could result in a verdict of death by hanging? Captain Don Wilkie, former United States secret service ace and criminologist, will explain how one might overlook self-control and seemingly enjoy life, but the lack of it once too often would spell disaster. This is the substance of Captain Wilkie's broadcast from KVOE tonight at 8 o'clock during which he will give many interesting details of this true-to-fact story taken from his files, and one of his regular series of broadcasts from KVOE Monday and Friday nights at 8 o'clock, Wednesday nights at 8:15.

Modulations From KVOE

If you have a yen for the bizarre and like thrills, you'll enjoy "Witches Tales" on KVOE tonight at 7 o'clock.

Part of the cat will emerge from the well known bag tonight during Cecil's and Sally's broadcast at 5:30 this evening with more obligations to Mrs. Mason looming.

Tomorrow's all request program will again be devoted to answering requests from listeners in the tuberculosis ward of the Orange county hospital. The program begins at 4 p. m.

A distinctive two-piano version of Rachmaninoff's well known "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" share honors with George Gershwin's "S Wonderful" in the current recital of Peggy Keenan and Arthur Schutt on KVOE tonight at 6:15. The popular Keenan and Schutt duo also will be heard in Vincent Youman's "I Know That You Know" and a medley of "Chloe" and "Chant of the Weed."

Russians Discuss Soviet on KVOE

Two Russians, one of them formerly an officer in the White Russian army which attempted to overthrow the Soviets, and an Englishman will discuss "The Present Position of the Family in Russia" on the International House Forum to be broadcast by KVOE and other stations in the nationwide network of the Mutual Broadcasting system from 11:30 to 12 noon tomorrow.

Amateur Contest On KVOE Tonight

Another group of amateurs and semi-professionals will demonstrate what they can do in the way of entertaining during tonight's "Opportunity Night" presentation by O. R. Haan, Chrysler and Plymouth distributor for Orange county, in their broadcast from KVOE beginning at 8:30.

Cash prizes are given the winners and everyone who takes part is given an award. Anyone who believes he or she has talent and can entertain is invited to take part in the program.

The show is broadcast by direct wire from the stage of Walker's theater in Santa Ana and is a regular Friday night feature.

DANGEROUS LANDINGS

By LOIS BULL—Author of 'Captive Goddess'

CHAPTER XXXV

As the tunnel widened out at the cave at the other end, they saw the submarine tied up to the wharf, with men at work on it, but the blunt nose of Buddy's gun, pressed against Flane's ribs, told him that silence was imperative.

They turned off into another narrow tunnel, lighted, like the other, with electric bulbs strung along the roof, but at greater intervals, so that the light was very dim and, at times, they were in almost complete darkness. They again had to proceed single file, with Flane leading. Directly behind him was Buddy, then Linda, and then Jerry.

Flane was smiling secretly to himself. Soon, now, he would put his idea to the test. This passage-way, like the live tunnel that Tommy had discovered, led to the secret laboratory, but just before it ran into the little pocket outside the laboratory doors, there was a sharp right-angle turn. At this point, Flane knew, the tunnel was quite dark, and it was here that he planned to make his bid for liberty.

The path was becoming steep, making their progress slow, but Flane managed to pull away from the others. His figure was barely discernible ahead. Buddy, sensing trickery, shouted after him. "Slow up there, Flane, or I'll shoot!" at the same time increasing his own speed.

But Flane had now reached the top of the incline and sprinted ahead. When Buddy, out of breath and considerably in advance of the others, reached the top of the incline himself, he saw that Flane had completely disappeared into the shadows ahead. Blindly, he broke into a run, holding his revolver ready.

Suddenly, in the darkness, he crashed full tilt into a wall and, at the same instant, his wrist was seized in a powerful grip that nearly tore his arm from its socket. He was thrown to the ground as his gun went flying from his hand. The next instant, Flane was on top of him, jabbing the gun into his side.

"Silence, you fool! Or I'll shoot the others as they come round this turn!"

But Buddy, stunned, his breath completely knocked out of him by his sudden contact with the wall, couldn't have spoken if he had tried. Moreover, his whole body seemed to have been paralyzed by the jiu-jitsu throw that Flane had given him. Gasping for breath, he lay helpless, dimly hearing, as in a dream, the shouts of the others—"Buddy! Where are you?"—as they came scrambling along the passageway.

Then, suddenly, there was a sharp scream, followed by a moan of pain, and he knew the fiend had seized Linda! As she was hurled down beside him, a shot reverberated through the tunnel, then another. Flane had started firing, to hold Jerry off!

Buddy, who by now had regained some of his breath and the partial use of his muscles, struggled to his knees and strove to grab at the hand that held the spitting weapon. But Flane jerked away, and now started backing along the tunnel, holding them at bay with his gun.

It was then that Buddy saw that they were near the end of the tunnel and that Flane was backing into a lighted pocket—the widened area just outside the doors of the secret laboratory, though Buddy did not know this.

The next instant, his astonished eyes saw Kirkbrae suddenly appear in that lighted area just behind Flane. How had he got here! And with him was Tommy!

Before Flane was aware of them, they had pounced on him from behind and, in a moment, he was disarmed and overpowered.

"We've got you Flane!" boomed Kirkbrae. "Too bad you started firing that gun. Otherwise, we wouldn't have heard what was going on, and you might have got away. But your game is up now!"

By this time, Jerry had joined them, and he and Tommy held Flane's arms pinioned to his sides while Buddy, now on his feet, though still a bit groggy, was sent into the laboratory to get a rope, with which Flane was tightly bound, hand and foot.

He submitted to this with a sneer on his face.

"So you think you've got me, do you? But I've still got the formula—safe in a place where you'll never find them! And I've made sure that Marshall won't ever duplicate those formulas!" With that, he broke into a fiendish laugh of triumph. It was a horrible sound. Everyone stared at him, with sudden foreboding.

"Where is Marshall?" Kirkbrae's voice was deadly calm. "What have you done with him?" "Sealed within the stone image in the secret inner cave!" Flane screamed hysterically. "He must be dead by now!" And again his diabolical laugh echoed through the tunnel.

Agghast, they all looked at each other in horror. Sealed in the image in the inner cave! What sort of fiend was this man! Then Kirkbrae broke the tense silence.

"Come! There's no time to be lost! Buddy, you stay here and stand guard over this devil with a gun. Shoot if he so much as moves! The rest of you, follow me!"

Passing through the laboratory they picked up what implements they could find for attacking the image. Tommy found the crowbar that had been dropped by Flane that morning.

"The image isn't actually stone," Kirkbrae explained. "It is some sort of cement mixture overlaid on brick." He didn't go on to tell of how human bones had been found inside the image when it had first been opened years ago. The thought was too horrible at just this moment.

Once inside the inner cave, they began feverishly to hack at the image.

"Now, here is where there should be an opening," Kirkbrae pointed to a spot at the rear.

Tommy gave the image a great jab with the crowbar. It toppled dangerously. "Easy does it, I guess," and he began tapping more gingerly. The cement began to fall away in blobs.

"Here! I've found it!" Tommy suddenly cried. "A soft place. Fresh cement!"

He and Jerry began hacking at the spot. Gradually, they uncovered a great brick—not like those used in modern building, but a slab of stone. When removed, it would leave an opening about large enough, they estimated, to permit the entry of a man's body.

Slowly, inch by inch, the slab began to move under the pulling of their torn and bleeding hands. Now there was an edge to get a purchase on. Ah! Now it was coming! After one last mighty tug, it fell to the ground.

Jerry, who had found an electric torch in the laboratory, held it fearfully to the opening. Inside was Marshall's trussed form. Gently, they pulled him out. His face was waxen.

Was he dead, or was there still a faint spark of life left?

SCOTTY FACES NEW ACTION

LONG BEACH, (AP)—A new separate maintenance suit was filed here yesterday against Walter E. (Death Valley) Scott by his wife, Ella Josephine Scott. She named the famous old prospector's partner, Albert M. Johnson, as co-defendant.

Alimony demands of $2500 a month, together with $50,000 attorney fees and $1000, were asked in the new suit. A suit filed Jan. 7 which asked $1000 alimony, $25,000 attorney fees and division of community property was dismissed.

The new suit lists the old desert rat's property as worth $1,000,000, together with $1,000,000 additional in gold and valuables, and gold mines and other possessions of unknown value.

CHANG'S AIDES ARE SLAIN

NANKING, (AP)—Three dissident Chinese leaders, allied with Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang's forces at Sianfu, were killed during a military mutiny within a municipality at the Shensi province capital Tuesday, delayed reports to Nanking said.

The reports, which could not be confirmed officially, said the assassinated lieutenants of the rebellious leader who abducted Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek last December were:

Lieut. Gen. Wang I-Chek, Colonel Chiang Pin and Colonel Sung Hsueh Li.

Gen. Pao Wen-Yueh and other high officials of Chang Hsueh-Liang's forces were forced to flee from Sianfu, the advices said.

Academy Gives Its Answer to 'What is a Boy?'

What is a boy? "He is the person who is going to carry on what you have started. He is to sit right where you are sitting and attend to things (which you think so important) when you are gone."

That is the way the question is answered at Black Fox Military Institute in Los Angeles, continuing. "You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends upon him. Even if you make leagues and treaties, he will have to manage them. He will take your seat in congress and parliament, assume control of your cities, states and empires. He is going to move in and take over your churches, schools, universities, corporations, councils and prisons. All your work is going to be judged and praised or condemned by him. The future and the destiny of humanity are in his hands. So it might be well to pay a little attention to him now."

High academic standards and a stimulating athletic program are stressed by the academy in building sturdy young manhood.

Women Throng Eucharistic Congress Today

MANILA, (AP)—Thousands of women thronged Luneta park today for the second day of the International Eucharistic Congress, dedicated to them.

The congregation exceeded that at the opening session last night, estimated at between 125,000 and 150,000. Tens of thousands received communion from 300 priests circulating in the crowd.

Interest centered on a demure Japanese woman, Mrs. Shizu Otsawa, clad in a silken kimono and slippers, who was converted to the Catholic faith while on her way here aboard a ship crowded with pilgrims to the congress.

She received her first communion from Archbishop Michael J. O'Doherty of Manila during the pontifical mass.

Archbishop Gabriel M. Reyes of Cebu, delivering the women's day sermon, declared the world's future salvation lies in strengthened home ties. He assailed Communism as the arch-foe of family life.

BURGERS LOOT CHURCH

SAN DIEGO, (AP)—Burglars forced their way into First Church of Christ, Scientist, here Wednesday night, cracked the safe and escaped with $659 in cash intended for the relief of flood victims in the Mid-West, police reported.

BRADDOCK, LOUIS SIGN CONTRACTS MONDAY

Column Left

They say Anaheim hasn't a ghost of a chance of winning any of the Orange Prep league basketball playoff games at home because of the school's "cheese-box" gymnasium.

Ralph (Bill) Cole, whose Tustin varsity already has won the minor division title, thereby qualifying for the two-out-of-three game playoff series, flatly refuses to enter a home-and-home arrangement with Anaheim. He will demand a neutral court.

Rival coaches believe Anaheim sports at least a 10-point advantage by playing in its present "box." The school, however, will have a new gymnasium for play next winter.

Any dispute over playoff sites can be sidetracked tonight if Orange beats Anaheim for the major division flag at Orange. The finalists then would play their game at Tustin, one at Orange and a third—if necessary—on a floor decided by the flip of a coin.

Nightball gossip: Bill Feister, Long Beach oil man who directs the business affairs of the Anaheim Valencia, is hot on the trail of Louie Neva, yet he CANNOT believe Huntington Beach actually has released the Russian pitcher. . . . Irvin (Baldy) Foltz, Olive's second-sacker, will seek his release from Manager Ben Geller of the Grenadiers to join Liston (Memph) Hill at Orange.

Vernon Koepsel, blond sprinter who dashed off a 9.9 "hundred" for the Dons two track seasons ago, will know Monday whether he credits will be accepted at San Diego State college. He hopes to enroll with the Aztecs this semester.

Baseball novelty: Manager Jim Keesey of Oklahoma City plans to levy a small fine on his players for failing to hit; a larger fine for striking out; a fine for a pitcher striking out a man home from third; $1 fine for a fielding miscue; an assessment for a pitcher losing after being given a safe lead; a deduction for walks allowed by a pitcher and a fine for hitting into a double play. . . . He also will have a "credit" system under which allowances will be made for hitting in a pinch, making a sparkling play, and for pitcher's strikeouts.

Verl Moyer, clever little third-baseman for the Saints a few years back, is peddling soft drinks for a big concern in San Diego.

The Coast Preparatory league annually winds up with musketeer standings on its single-round basketball schedule, and the manner in which it conducts its playoff has become a farce.

The season rocks along until some of the best players become ineligible through mid-term graduation. And the coaches must patch their riddled lineups with Class B talent and varsity reserves. For example, Alhambra's fine quintet lost, among others, Jack Stetson and Jack Barron, the club's six-foot-seven center and high-scoring forward, respectively.

Long Beach Poly and San Diego's Hillers, who finished in a three-way tie with Alhambra, also were hit by February graduation—but to a lesser degree.

What a crime! Why shouldn't the players who gained the playoffs be allowed to compete in them? Why couldn't the playoffs have been scheduled before the close of the first semester?

Francis Conrad, who played lots of shortstop for Santa Ana and Huntington Beach in National Nightball league, is employed by a fire department in Visalia, and will represent that softball club again in the San Joaquin Valley league this summer.

One of the experiments Coach Bill Cook will try in the spring football practice at Santa Ana Jaycee will be the shifting of Bob Faul from tackle to end.

Ernest Butterworth, who played the game for years in England, has made an instant hit as Don rugby coach. And incidentally, he's arranging a very attractive schedule for the fans. Some of the games—one of which will be with the U. S. C. Trojans—will be played at night in the Municipal bowl.

DIDRIKSON TIRED AS PRO Babe Prefers Amateur Golf

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—Babe Didrikson complained today she was weary of watching other girls play golf.

"I want to play, too," she said, explaining her professional status keeps her out of almost all tournament action except against men.

"I'm going back to amateur golf. That is, if the United States Golf Association will let me. My application for reinstatement as an amateur will be mailed soon to the U. S. G. A."

"I like this sort of thing, and am just beginning to realize I've missed something."

"I'm through with this all-around-woman-athlete business, for

Games Tonight

Brea at Tustin

Laguna Beach at Valencia

There will be a show-down in Orange County Prep league basketball, major division, tonight. Two unbeaten fives—Orange and Anaheim—go on the floor at 8 o'clock in Orange to battle for the right to play Tustin's minor league champions in a playoff Feb. 12-13-15 for the 1937 championship.

There is little to choose between Hod Chambers' Orange Panthers and Dick Glover's Anaheim Colonists, whose league records fairly sparkle:

ANAHEIM
	W.	L.	Pct.
Huntington Beach	14	0	1.000
Newport Harbor	13	0	.923
Garden Grove	12	0	.857
Orange	11	0	.769
Huntington Beach	10	0	.692

Orange's attack is built around Henry Martinez, a red-hot forward who has been held back in recent tests by the "flu bug." If Martinez is unable to last the entire route, he will give way to Gilbert Lierman, a capable substitute.

Others responsible for the success of Orange's classy machine are Norman Burbridge, forward; Bob (Spider) Schildmeyer, center; Ray Amling and Vernon Worden, guards.

Coach Glover, the former Occidental star, plans to start the five Anaheim boys who have been clicking most consistently—Ray Ortiz and Chauncey Woodmore, forwards; Ted DeVeliss, center; Lynn Arnett and Buddy Fassell, guards.

Garden Grove completed its major division schedule with a thrilling 31-30 upset over Newport Harbor early in the week.

Tustin's minor division champions remain busy on their home court against Stan Gould's Brea-Olinda Wildcats. The Tillers hope to close their league season unbeaten with their combination of Sam and Paul Francis, Walt and Vic Linker and Larry Monroy. Laguna Beach's Artists will play Clarence Bishop's Valencians on the Brea-Olinda floor.

All varsity games will get under way shortly after 8 o'clock. There will be Class B preliminaries at 7.

DONS PREP FOR RIVERSIDERS

Encouraged by consecutive 44-43 and 36-25 victories over Pomona and Citrus, Santa Ana Jaycee's basketball aggregation today put on the final touches for its Eastern conference brush at Riverside tomorrow night.

With two newcomers, Charley Barrett and Vernon Rutledge, in the lineup, and Forward Ken Nissley and Center Harry Stanley at their scoring peak, Coach Blanchard, Beatty's home guard may surprise the Bengals who had a ridiculously easy time in the first round, 54-24.

The Notre Dame eleven last fall played to the largest crowds for any season in which the Irish won only six games. The total of 198,000 at home games was also the largest South Bend attendance in the Ramblers' records.

FIRETHORN TO MISS SANTA ANITA 'CAP

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Ranks of eligibles for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, Feb. 27, were thinned today by the withdrawal of Firethorn by owner W. M. Jeffords.

Recurrence of an ankle injury received last summer when Firethorn conquered Granville in the Belmont Suburban Handicap makes his conditional temporary withdrawal a serious blow to the annual meeting in late April or early May.

Santa Ana hopes to step out of the Coast loop to join a smaller league—preferably the Citrus Belt which now has Riverside, San Bernardino, Pomona, Redlands and Chaffey as members.

WAR GLORY RETURNS TO RACE PROGRAM

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—War Glory, F. A. Carreard's once dangerous stake horse, goes back into the racing world today against a field of eight or more in the $1500 added Mojave Handicap at Santa Anita park.

Slated to start in the six-furlong event were two horses which outdistanced War Glory in the President's birthday purse last Saturday. They were Manner's Man and Cloud D'O'r, which finished one-two in the six-horse field, with War Glory last.

War Glory grabbed a more attractive weight assignment with 103 pounds. Manner's Man and Cloud D'O'r were handed 115 apiece, as was Ex-nihilo.

The A's pilot, looking for outfield reserves, said he would take Parker, Bill Nicholson and Floyd Yount with "the first crowd" that leaves Philadelphia Feb. 18 for the training camp in Mexico City.

Mack said Parker would give up his studies at Duke at his own request, planning to make up credits for a diploma next winter. The football and baseball star was to get his degree in June.

MRS. BAKRE IS GOLF WINNER

Mrs. Harry Bakre stroked her way to victory in medal play for ladies with an 85-7-81 in Santa Ana Country club golf yesterday.

Runner-up honors went to Mrs. Dean Campbell with a 97-15-82. Other scorers were Mrs. R. W. Weston, 100-14-86, and Mrs. C. H. Chapman, 106-20-86.

Myatt Signs First Padre Contract

SAN DIEGO. (AP)—Young George Myatt today became the first San Diego Padre ball player to sign a 1937 contract with the Pacific coast league entry here. The shortstop was given a raise.

AWARD GOLD FOOTBALLS

SANTA CLARA. (AP)—Forty-one gold footballs, given Santa Clara university gridders by officials who handled the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans New Year's day, were distributed to players and coaches last night. The Broncos won the game from Louisiana State, 21-14.

Saint Withdrawal to Come Before C. I. F. Tomorrow

Lynn H. Crawford, Santa Ana High school principal, will appear before members of the C. I. F., southern branch, in their meeting at Harvard Military academy at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow to present the Saints' petition for withdrawal from the Coast Preparatory league.

Relegating of Southern California prep athletics will be discussed informally, but no definite action is expected until the annual meeting in late April or early May.

Santa Ana hopes to step out of the Coast loop to join a smaller league—preferably the Citrus Belt which now has Riverside, San Bernardino, Pomona, Redlands and Chaffey as members.

CONNIE MACK SIGNS DUKE HALFBACK

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—Connie Mack had a trio of Dixie collegians all outlanders, "on the line" for his Athletics today with the signing of Clarence (Ace) Parker, all-America halfback at Duke university.

The A's pilot, looking for outfield reserves, said he would take Parker, Bill Nicholson and Floyd Yount with "the first crowd" that leaves Philadelphia Feb. 18 for the training camp in Mexico City.

Mack said Parker would give up his studies at Duke at his own request, planning to make up credits for a diploma next winter. The football and baseball star was to get his degree in June.

Garcia Fights Indian Paris

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Cefierio Garcia, box punching Los Angeles Filipino and a leading contender for Barney Ross' welterweight title, tonight boxes Chief Paris, Oklahoma Indian, in a 10-rounder at the Legion stadium.

Garcia, a favorite at the movie city fight club, was expected to dispose of Paris without much difficulty.

Gomez's Condition Remains Critical

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Dr. Rodney Youell said a blood transfusion for Manuel (Manny) Gomez, Santa Clara university football star critically ill here, was unnecessary at present. He said Gomez was cheered by offers of other Santa Clara football players to give their blood.

OAKBROOK POLOISTS LOSE

SANTA BARBARA. (AP)—Cyril Harrison, high-ranking Baltimore poloist, led a Maryland team to a 13-5 victory over Oakbrook here yesterday in league play for the Wallop trophy.

BERLIN.—Gustav Eder, Germany, outpointed Cleto Locatelli, Italy (12), weights unavailable.

TAMPA, Fla.—Isadore Gastanaga, 200, Spain, knocked out Joe Lipps, 192, Ty Ty, Ga. (2).

PHILADELPHIA.—Midget Wogast, 133, Philadelphia, outpointed Johnny Hutchinson, 124½, Philadelphia (10).

CROSBY GOLF PLAY LURES LOCAL MEN

DEL MAR. (AP)—Lured by $3000 in movie gold, nomadic golf stars tuned up today for the Bing Crosby tournament at Rancho Santa Fe, near here, tomorrow and Sunday.

The profitable competition will ring down the curtain on the California winter links season, which has seen Lawson Little, Sam Snead, Ed Dwyer and Harry Cooper, among others, come home winners.

Arranged as a pro-amateur affair, the tourney pairs 83 pay-for-pay specialists, with a like number of simon-pures, including Crosby, the film star sponsor.

The amateurs were culled from 125 applicants.

Crosby is going to team with Denny Shute, long a winner in these parts, while Bob Burns, the Arkansas comedian, will test his strokes and jokes with Julius Huot.

Other film luminaries consigned to the company of pros include Allan Hale, Bruce Cabot, Richard Arlen and Gregory La Cava.

CLIFTON'S TO PLAY MILLS

Gunning for an upset over a team that shaded them in the first round, Manager Quentin Matzen's Woolen Mills cagers motor to Los Angeles tonight to meet Clifton's cafe in a Los Angeles league game on the Loyola High school floor at 7:45 o'clock.

Matzen said he would start the Lockhart brothers, Leonard and Sam, at guard, with Doug Wheeler at center, Kermit Silverwood and Bill Kolchroest at forward. Ed Eastman and Joe McChesney also will be available.

It appears to be only an empty honor for, according to word passed around, he is slated to become the first-sacker for Jersey City, the Giants' new International league farm club.

Morgan Requests Time Extension For Novel Bout

When informed he would face Tiny Roebuck, Casey Berger, Jack McArthur and Brother Jonathan in the scheduled four-against-one wrestling feint at the Orange County Athletic club Monday night, Big Ben Morgan asked to have the time limit for the match extended from one-and-a-half to two hours.

"It's okay with me," he was told by Promoter Sam Sampson, "but the four opponents will have to agree to it. They signed with the understanding the match would be for one-and-a-half hours."

Wrestling Last Night

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK. (AP)—Robert Bruns, 218, Germany, pinned Jim McMillen, 220, Chicago.

HARTFORD, Conn.—George Zarzynoff, 205, Grafton, Mass., defeated Gus Sonnenberg, 205, Hartford, N. H., (two of three falls).

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Salvatore Balbo, 190, Lynn, Mass., defeated Mike Rogoski, 205, Weymouth, Mass. (two of three falls).

CHICAGO.—Everett Marshall, 222, La Junta, Colo., defeated Oki Shikina, 200, Japan. (Shikina knocked from ring.)

SAN FRANCISCO.—Bob Castle, 180, St. Louis, defeated Larry Tillman, 165, Oklahoma, (two of three falls).

DON OUTLOOK IN BASEBALL BRIGHTER

Fullerton Pitchers and Saint Graduates Will Help Coach Beatty

Revival of baseball at Santa Ana Junior college will find Coach Blanchard Beatty equipped to field a formidable entry in the Eastern conference this season.

Prospects are reported virtually as bright as those when the Dons won the championship in 1932.

Drill at Lincoln

The junior collegians plan to remove the Lincoln school grounds for a practice field, but probably will play their conference games at Poly field on dates not conflicting with high school games.

Two former Fullerton High school pitchers, Arnold Fickle and Joe Herbert, are among the available talent, although Herbert may pass up the diamond sport for rugby. Fred Erdhaus, all-conference end in Don football who played some baseball for the Saints, plans to try out as a hurler.

Among the new recruits are Virgil Stevens, first-baseman from Fort Worth, Texas, and Bob King, catcher from the canal zone.

Saints Aid Greatly

Santa Ana High has contributed generously, what with Harold Jessee, third baseman; Art Nieblas, outfielder; Ervin Youel, first baseman; Duane Teel, catcher; Bob Wilde, shortstop; and Joe Kadowski, outfielder, available. There is a possibility Norman Wyckoff, hard-hitting outfielder, will enroll.

Bob Paul and Elmer Smith, Orange High school graduates, are said to be interested in the sport.

Neil McDaniel, president of the Associated Students and a brother of Bill McDaniel of the '33 Dons, is an outfielder.

The regular schedule of conference games will be played with Fullerton, Riverside, Chaffey, San Bernardino, Citrus and Pomona.

GIANTS OBTAIN LEROY ANTON

OAKLAND. (AP)—LeRoy Anton, big, plodding first baseman of the Oakland Coast league baseball club, found himself today the property of the New York Giants after being passed up by scouts for six years.

It appears to be only an empty honor for, according to word passed around, he is slated to become the first-sacker for Jersey City, the Giants' new International league farm club.

Former British Golf Queen Plans Comeback This Year

defeating Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare.

Although regarded as a "business woman golfer" by the Ladies' Golf union, she hasn't been labeled a professional, paralleling the case of America's Helen Hicks. If she goes through with her present plan, she will have to apply to the L. G. U., which, if it felt favorably inclined, would recommend to the Royal and Ancient at St. Andrews that she be declared an amateur.

Reports from Jamaica indicate Lady Heathcoat-Amory has been scoring exceptionally well with rounds of 70 and 71 over the constant spring course.

The question of her status as an amateur has not been raised since Joyce never sought to enter a tournament after her retirement. She won the British championship four times—the last in 1929 by

Sports Roundup

By SCOTTY RESTON
Pinch-Hitting for Brietz
NEW YORK. (AP)—Lou Gehrig may be the successor to Babe Ruth in July, but February he's just another first baseman. . . . When Lou tried to talk Colonel Jake Ruppert out of more money and failed, "Don't forget your contract, Lou," reminded Ruppert. . . . "I think I'll leave it here," replied Gehrig. . . . And there it is, in the Colonel's upper left hand drawer.

Jack Dempsey's place in Miami Beach is doing all right. . . . Incidentally, he doesn't actually "own" those places. . . . He's just the front. . . . Paul Benenbach, Jack Delany and Tom Heeney also are working in Miami. . . . And Gene Tunney's building a new house in Miami Beach.

Bump Hadley, first and only Yankee regular to sign so far, has worked up a new winter business. . . . During the baseball season, he takes movies of the stars and the big games. . . . In the off-season, he goes around the country telling baseball stories and showing the pictures. . . . He gives a lot of free talks, but he gets anywhere from $25 to $200 most places, and makes winter expenses out of it.

The Giants didn't cut Hank Leiber, despite his bad year, and they haven't heard from him yet.

Billy Beahold, promising young lightweight, is actually Billy Madden, a good Irishman. . . . Both his parents died when he was a kid and a poor Dutch family named Beahold adopted him in St. Louis. . . . He's fighting now out of Jersey City, a good Irish town. . . . His backers want him to change to his right name, but he won't, and he's taking care of the St. Louis Beaholds with his earnings.

Leo Echle, the pari-mutuels executive, is a ringer for Jim Farley.

Jimmy Johnston and Col. John Reed Kilpatrick were sitting around the goldfish in the Colonel's Madison Square Garden office discussing the fight situation.

Jimmy was telling how he "insulted" General John J. Phelan, state athletic commission chairman, the other day. . . . The Colonel wanted to know if it was wise to insult the General. . . . Whereupon James Joy replied, "Don't worry, John. If there's a fight promoter in town who hasn't, I'll give him a loving cup."

Soon as a guy joins the Brooklyn Dodgers, things happen to him. . . . Ralph Brindley writes that his Cincinnati home was in the flood and he's been cooking his meals in a can on the front lawn. . . . If he thinks that's tough, wait'll he reports.

Eddie Brietz is recovering in great shape. . . .

Strangest weather-vane in the U. S. is atop Bill Klem's house in Miami Beach. . . . It's an iron figure of Bill himself, waving a way out at the plate. . . . Frank B. York, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 1930-32, who died Tuesday, sold Edward McKeever and Steve McKeever into the Dodgers. . . . That was in 1912, and their own payment on 50 per cent of the stock was $250,000. . . . York died unnoticed Tuesday and not until a day later did some one dig his name from the obscurity of the obituary column and connect it with the Dodgers.

FROZEN FRUIT SALVAGE IS OUTLINED

By-Products Plants Use Tons of Oranges in This County

Tons of citrus fruit from other California counties and from Arizona are being used by citrus by-product plants operating in Orange county.

Most of the plants now operating are using navel oranges, but some are using valencias brought in from Arizona, it was learned today. Hundreds of tons a day are being used by the plants.

Aid to Growers

Selling of fruit damaged by the freeze to these by-products plants by growers offers a means for the growers to secure money for fruit that is not suitable for the general market. Growers are more fortunate in this respect than they were after the freezes of 1913 and 1922, for in those years there were few plants using lower grade citrus fruits for by-products.

For the manufacture of oil and peel products and for other by-products, Orange county plants are using all available stocks of frost-bitten fruit, it was reported.

Fourteen plants for by-product purposes may be delivered only to a recognized by-product plant, of which there are 14 in Orange county. "By-product" means any product commercially processed, preserved, or manufactured from fruit, except fresh citrus juice.

Plants now using navel oranges include the Absopure Products company, Anaheim; Mutual Citrus Products company, Anaheim; Santa Barbara Citrus Juice company, Orange; Earl Silze company, Anaheim; V. R. Smith Packing company, West Anaheim; and Tree-sweet Products company, Santa Ana. Several others indicated they might begin using navel oranges soon.

Seeks Release of Inheritance

Release from court custody of an inheritance he bought a year ago was sought today by John D. Singleton in an action filed in superior court.

Singleton sought payment of a $1000 bequest given to Homer Mart in the will of J. A. Mart. He said he bought Homer Mart's interest in the estate last Feb. 29, but that the bequest has been held up.

Avala Mart Lang, executor of the estate, and Nina Mart Canfield, who assertedly attached Homer Mart's share, were named defendants in the action.

Adams Sportswear's New Shop

Above is an interior view of Adams Sportswear shop, taken shortly after the formal opening in its new location, 112 West Fourth street. The shop has been popular since its opening in Santa Ana a year ago.

SPORTS SHOP IN NEW HOME

From hundreds of Orange county women who have visited the new, larger location of the Adams Sportswear shop, the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Adams, Jr., are receiving praise on their new venture.

The store, formerly on Main street, opened Saturday in its new, very modern salesroom at 112 West Fourth street.

The occasion also marked the opening of advance showings of spring styles in sweaters, skirts, blouses, slacks and other sportswear. The shop features sports suits and slacks suits in many styles.

Growth of their business in the past 12 months made necessary and possible the expansion into the new store, Mr. and Mrs. Adams said.

Girl Reserves, with Mrs. Marjorie Crumrine as their sponsor, have elected new officers recently. Anita Wasson will be president of the organization; Bonnie Martin, vice president; Mary McDougal, secretary, and Betty Nelson, counselor.

Basketball champions are Miss Kline's home room, with five games, Miss Orr's "I" team with five games, Miss Carl's three games, Miss Hazel Thrasher, and Miss Cornell's rooms tied with a score of two; Miss L. Thrasher and Mrs. Wolff's classes each had five games, Miss Adams and Miss Henderson four each, Miss Nicolson's class a score of five games, Miss Biggins four, and Mrs. Hill's and Miss Hart's three each.

High eighth art classes are interested in making interiors for any room of a house, while high nine classes are making raffia and yarn purses, and painting cork mats. High sevens are binding books and recipe books.

General Science classes under Ferris Scott's direction are proudly displaying some very interesting notebooks.

Miss Bernice Hart's general language classes have been displaying activity projects on "How all languages have contributed to the English language." Each student works out his own idea of the contributing factors. Some of them showed boats, carrying words to other shores, some drew scrolls, and some modern-minded ones had the telephone and radio as language distributors. The combined English-Spanish book reports which this class has been doing have proved to be very helpful in creating a valuable background for the language itself.

With the beginning of the new semester, classes are electing new officers. Those for Miss Blythe's home room are as follows: Frances Brando, president; Ruth Ames, vice president; Emmy Lou Brooks, secretary; Johnnie Bridwell, boys athletic manager; Corydon Burnette, sergeant at arms, and L. G. Bush, reporter.

Reporters for the Santa Ana Journal and Santa Ana Register have been newly appointed from Miss Blythe's high eight English class. They are: Glenna Jean Titchener, Aline Knudsen, Dorothy Hermans, Nannette Hubbard, Ralph McAndrews, Lavonna Craig, Ruth Anderson, Bertha Birdsall, Carol Chittcock and Kenneth Lindall.

Boys' physical education classes are still very interested in their speedball and basketball non-test. Scores to date show that Mr. Baker's home room won four games; Miss Cornell's five, Mr.

Double of Gable May Be Dad Of 13-Year-Old Gwendolyn

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Somewhere in Tacoma, Wash., may live the human answer, said federal authorities today, to Mrs. Violet Wells Norton's quest of a father for her 13-year-old daughter Gwendolyn.

Mrs. Norton is facing trial March 1 on charges she attempted to get money from Clark Gable, film star, by representing him to be the Frank Billings with whom she had a love affair in England in 1922.

Describing himself as a perfect double for Gable, an unidentified writer mailed a penny postcard at Tacoma Jan. 29, addressed to U. S. Attorney Peirson M. Hall at Los Angeles.

The note read: "Dear Sir—the lady is right—Frank Billings is the father of her child, but I am the man. Also am a perfect double for C. G."

Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, said that Poulis was considered "one of the ring leaders" of the "Greek combination" which disposed of some of the stolen securities through brokerage accounts at Boston, New York and Washington.

Poulis is the 21st individual to be arrested in connection with the crime.

He set Feb. 10 as the last day on which tokens, given in lieu of cash, could be traded in at the colony commissary.

The notice said no credit would be allowed on any future purchases from the corporation except on building materials, farm machinery, livestock and stock feed.

Sheely explained the new system was started to encourage the colonists to clear land and erect buildings.

Relief experts who have studied the unusual system declare it is an amazing illustration of the existence of one form of mutual assistance on relief cases in contrast with the method employed by various state and national governments.

Commenting on the film, Manager Les Fountain said it was an informative contribution to public knowledge and study of the relief problem.

With interest universally centered on the relief problem, the March of Time, showing at the Broadway theater tonight and tomorrow, depicts the method which the Mormon church uses in helping its members who are unable to care for their families.

The church provides for all members from its own funds, believing that it is the duty of religious groups to practice the charity which they preach, according to the film.

The author of "Castle of Doom," "Silver Moth" and "Mansion of Fear" brings you her newest mystery serial—now published for the first time.

Fran Haven had thought she was to be his secretary. She discovered soon that she was his prisoner. Why he—and his wife—should want to hold her captive the young American girl could not imagine. She was not rich. They were not insane. But terror gripped her, none the less. And her terror grew after that scene in the library, when she found the card with The Purple Arrow on it—and her captor discovered it in her hand. . . . Begin this brilliant and baffling new serial

18 MILLIONS UNDER JOB INSURANCE

36 States Adopt Laws Giving Protection to Wage Earners

WASHINGTON (AP)—The social security board estimated today that the unemployment insurance in effect in 36 states extends protection to 17,943,000 wage earners. This represents 80 per cent of the total expected when all states conform, it was said, and the industrial states of Delaware, Illinois and Missouri account for about three-fifths of the workers not yet covered. The board said 90 per cent would be reached if the legislatures of the states named enact the insurance in the sessions now under way.

Surveying state laws, the board said they show certain common trends but also indicate the latitude allowed states in meeting their special needs under the security act.

Of the 23 laws passed since July, 20 provided for employer contributions only.

Although Wisconsin established a separate fund for each employer, set aside to aid his own men when they are jobless, 32 states use a "straight pooled fund," in which all contributions go into a single state account from which benefits are paid all eligible workers regardless of their former employers.

The 13 states without insurance are Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Dakota, Washington and Wyoming.

Cost of Servants Cuts Birthrate

LONDON (AP)—Miss E. Hough of Chelmsford, addressing a conference of conservative women here, blamed Britain's "servant problem" for the falling birthrate. "I believe there are many educated women who are refusing to have families," she said, "because they cannot face the possibility of having to run a house and bring up a family entirely single handed."

Flood Refugees Watch While Shelter Is Erected

The fair grounds at Memphis, Tenn., became a clearing house for flood refugees pouring in from threatened areas. ## Willard Junior High News

Three new and interesting exhibits have appeared in the show-cases this month. An exhibit on printing loaned to Mrs. Allen by Mr. Williams, high school and junior college printing instructor, display pages from several old Bibles printed in the 1400's. The first prize for the best sports page, taken recently at the Southern California High School Press association convention at Santa Monica and a page of type set up for the Echo are shown. Books printed by the Fine Arts Press create further interest.

A second display is one of unusual interest, consisting of a boys' sports exhibit furnished by the Neal Sports Goods to Mr. Mitchell. The main attraction is a net, while a bat, basketball, softball, football and mitt carry out the printed motto, "Sports Build Health."

A review of activities in Willard's typing classes furnishes material for a third case.

The latest report on the thrilling contest going on in Mr. Schmid's low eight G arithmetic class finds the Huskies in the lead with the fiery Irish a close second. The mathematicians don't seem to have collected their senses yet, but we wager they'll come up.

Mrs. Low's low seven M's have been studying health, largely concerning bones, muscles, etc., with a group of large charts aiding in understanding. The low eight A's have thoroughly explored the wonders of food. They have mainly taken up meat, its 50 some by-products, and the flour industry.

The high nine girls who took sewing in class one last semester are having a surprise Valentine party Feb. 15 from 3 to 4:30 in Room 214. Miss Green, instructor, announced today.

The hostesses are Marjorie Walton and Virginia Watkins. The Valentine motif will be carried out in refreshments, decorations and entertainment.

Feb. 20 is the date set for the blind date dance to be given by the Nos Amici Latin club. Carroll Brinkerhoff and Phyllis Bemis were chosen for the committee in charge of the dance.

They will invite the partners by drawing names out of a hat and neither the boy nor the girl will know who his partner is until he arrives at the dance.

This was decided at a recent meeting of the club held at the home of Marjorie Mize. Refreshments were served to Dorothy Fraser, Marion Kenyon, Frances Page, Mary Katherine Friend, Fern Hendricks, Aileen Smith, Jean Conliffe and Marjorie Mize.

Joe Mixer, boys' sports editor of the Echo last semester and prominent ninth grader, has left Willard for Riverside Junior high. Joe had the distinction of being a member of the honor society at Willard for five semesters.

The Senior Girls Glee club, directed by Miss Glancy and accompanied by Alice Jean Irvin, gave a 30-minute program at the Odd Fellows hall on Jan. 25 at 8 o'clock.

The girls were invited to a pot-luck supper by the lodge preceding the program and were presented with a box of home-made candy as a reward for their efforts.

Hollis Tibbals was elected president of the ninth grade Girl Reserves at a meeting held in room 107, Feb. 3. Mary Lou Mann is the vice president; Helen Tibbals, secretary; Jean Conliffe, song leader, and Dorothy Frazer, representative.

Bill Hull was reappointed captain of the safeties for this semester by Mrs. Lund and Miss Steel, student government advisors. As his co-captain, Virginia Campbell will take the place of Katherine Hamright.

The new safeties include Barbara Preininger, Marjorie White, Eleanor Hedley, Marion Kenyon, Helen Tibbals, Hollis Tibbals, Virginia Campbell, Bertha Ortiz, Aileen Smith, Ross Barnes, Dale Hahn, Dick Anderson, Frank Sanchez and Bob McCowan.

The safeties for last semester who will continue this semester are Frances Page, Marjorie Calhoun, Leila Jean Brown, Jean Conliffe, Mary Hunter, Rita Lara, Helen Latham, Phyllis Bemis, Lucille Andrews, Martha Mae Mills, Raymond Ross, Robert Cazares, Forest Paul, Ardell Sawyer, Arthur Cantu, John Blauer, Herbert Petty, Joe Reynoso, Daryl Sherfey, William Waddell, Dick Dutton, Jack Harper, Kenneth Morrison and Bob Wooster.

Girl Scout troop 3 had a party at the Scout House, 811 Riverine, on Wednesday, Feb. 3, when games were played and refreshments served to Sally Tiernan, Marguerite Baker, Frances Jean Smith, Elaine Howard, Joy Crouse, Lucille Menton, Virginia Steele and Miss Green, troop leader.

The L. 9 W. English class has for the last two weeks been studying the art of writing friendly and business letters, according to Mrs. Scott, instructor.

The students have choice of any one of three suggestions; writing to someone in a foreign country, to a person in another part of the United States, or writing to one of their friends in any place.

The Willard Newsette came out this week with the approved movie list for the junior high age. They are: "Mind Your Own Business," "One in a Million," "Arizona March," "Banjo on My Knee," "Great Guy," "As You Like It," "Born to Dance," "Jungle Princess," "Love on the Run," "Rainbow on the River" and "Three Smart Girls."

The Willard library subscribes to the Junior Literary Guild books for both boys and girls, according to Mrs. Blee, librarian. "This entitles us to 24 books a year, 12 for girls and 12 for boys," Mrs. Blee said. The latest are "The Diary of Selma," by Lagerlof, an autobiography, and "Book of Living Reptiles," by Ditmars, for the boys.

Among the new pupils in Willard this semester are Johnny McDowell, from Honolulu, Hawaii, and William Rogers of South Dakota. Those coming from other schools in California are Adelaide Kanouse, Salinas; Miquela Castro, Tustin; Duke Pike, Eagle Rock; Betty Moon, Los Angeles; Beatrice Hilton, Talbert, and Marjorie Hefner, Orange.

Navy Buys Tin, But Not for Ships

NEW YORK.—Tin battleships? It looked suspiciously so recently when the navy department placed a contract in New York City for 30,000 pounds of tin to be used in Brooklyn navy yard. Advertisement for bids on 500,000 pounds of Lake copper went without effect when no bids were received. The copper was destined for use at the Washington navy yard in connection with fabrication of fittings for new ships.

Firemen on Job In Tuxedos

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP)—Imagine the surprise of Mrs. Charles Jones when five handsome firemen dressed in tuxedos, patent leather pumps, "boiled" shirts and black ties responded to her call to the fire department. They went to work on a burning chicken coop and restricted the loss to 15 chickens. Then they explained they were attending a lodge memorial service when the alarm was sounded.

ROUND TOWN 4 OUT OF EVERY 5 MILES YOU DRIVE ARE STOP AND GO

SUPER-SHELL

JUST "starting up" after a normal traffic stop can waste enough gasoline to drive your car a third of a mile.

To reduce the waste of stop and go, Shell engineers developed a way to "balance" gasoline.

This balancing process completely rearranges the chemical structure of gasoline... makes Super-Shell

"digestible" for your motor... just as cooking will make some foods digestible for you.

"Motor-digestible" is the best way to describe this gasoline. Under all stop-and-go driving conditions, you'll find your motor gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content.

And you get the savings! Super-Shell is on sale from coast to coast. There's a Shell station in your neighborhood.

Let's go to town —at home!

No telling what tomorrow's weather may be. It fools the best forecasters. But we do want that chintz for the windows. We do need a carpet sweeper, a new percolator, and a new end-table in the living-room. And we don't want to slosh around rainy streets to hunt them.

Problem: How to thwart the weather man.

Simple enough!

Let's sit down by the fireplace and read the advertisements. Here it's comfortable and snug. We'll take The Journal page by page, compare prices, qualities, brand-names. Tomorrow, rain or shine, we'll head for the store that has what we want, and be home in a jiffy.

"Buying at home"—through the advertising columns of The Journal—gives you wide selection, more time to decide, and satisfaction when you decide. Make it one of your pleasant habits!

HIGHWAY SIGNS RAPPED AS TRAFFIC HAZARD BY STATE POLICE

Bills in Legislature Cover Variety of Human Problems

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles on distinctive unusual measures pending in the state legislature.)

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Few subjects related to man and his activities, from the time of his birth to and including the manner of his death escaped attention in the mass of legislation poured in upon the fifty-second session.

The proposed new laws range from foot and finger printing of infants to establishing a fig garden refuge; from depriving Asiatics and others of the right to occupy or cultivate farm lands in California to the building of electric fences; from expressly giving the legislature the right to pardon felons to requiring the state to second hand watches from giving a wife the right to prosecute a lazy husband to abolition of the death penalty.

Hits Aliens
Here are some of the miscellaneous measures which are before the people for discussion with their lawmakers during the constitutional recess:

S. B. 749, By Senator Law, El Centro: Would make it unlawful for any alien not eligible to citizenship to acquire possession, enjoy, use, cultivate or transfer real property or any interest therein in this state. Such persons are expressly forbidden to have real property in their possession or to care for or control agricultural lands or lands fit for agriculture. Violation would be punishable by imprisonment of not more than two years and a fine not exceeding $5,000.

Tolerance Bill
A. B. 371 by Pelletier and Hawkins, Los Angeles: Requires public officials to exercise tolerance in their dealings with the public and prescribes the teaching of the aims and purposes of tolerance in all educational institutions.

Section 1 says in part, "Tolerance as used in this act is that quality of intellectual attainment which recognizes the constitutional rights of the people of every race, color or creed to their lawful opinions, views or actions, regardless of their being in unity or agreement with others."

"Tolerance is manifested by patience, serenity, composure, deliberateness, restrained emotions, self control, courtesy, understanding, lack of bigotry, or prejudice or vicious discrimination."

Must Keep Temper
Section 2—It shall be the duty of every public official and employee in the service of the state to practice and display patience, self control, fairness, courtesy and understanding in his relations with the public and to avoid bigotry, prejudice or discrimination.

The act provides charges may be filed against an official and for dismissal upon a second offense, after a warning.

The superintendent of public instruction is required to establish courses of tolerance and superintendents of all county and city schools are required to enforce the teaching of such courses.

Repeals Death Penalty
S. B. 338 by Senators Holohan, Santa Cruz, Wagy, Bakersfield, Allen, Yreka; Deuel, Chico, and Williams, Sonoma:

Would make it mandatory that capital punishment shall be administered by use of a lethal gas. A. B. 175 by Pelletier, Los Angeles and others repeals the death penalty except in the cases of criminals serving life sentences who attack another person with a deadly weapon, and as provided in the articles of war for murder, statutory offenses, treason, desertion, misconduct in the presence of the enemy and similar offenses.

Missing Girl Is Located

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Shirley Smith, 16, of San Diego missing since Jan. 25, was found today at the home of a couple who had befriended her, police reported.

Detective Lieut. William Sims said Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dominguez telephoned him after they saw the girl's picture in the newspapers. Mrs. Dominguez said she met the girl on the street several days ago and that Shirley told her she was penniless and without friends. They took care of her while she looked for work, police were told.

I COVER THE CAPITOL

By SENATOR HARRY C. WESTOVER

The following is one of a series of weekly articles written by Orange county's senator, Harry C. Westover, covering activities of the state legislature at Sacramento which are of pertinent interest to the voters and taxpayers of Orange county.

I have a question box at home five years old. The other day at the dinner table we happened to mention something about the supervisors. He very candidly asked if the supervisors made soup. I replied that the supervisors did not make soup but they were usually in the soup.

It is impossible for public officials to please everyone. The most that any public official can do, regardless of whether he is a member of a board of supervisors or a member of the legislature, is to please the majority of the people. When a public official ceases to please a majority of his constituents, the probability is that at the next election he will be retired to private life.

At the January session of the state legislature I introduced several measures which I thought beneficial to the state at large. However, these measures which I introduced have received more or less opposition.

During the recent campaign, I stated on many occasions that I was in favor of reduction of taxes by reduction of the cost of government. I do not feel that we need any new taxes in the state of California at the present time and that if the tax system is not changed by the legislature, that California will be out of the red by 1939. Consequently I am opposed to any radical change in the tax program of the state of California. However, I am interested in the reduction of the cost of government, wherever possible.

At the January session of the legislature, I introduced a bill having to do with the grand juries. Under our present law, it is mandatory upon the judges of the various counties to call a grand jury each year. The measure which I sponsored does not do away with the grand jury but it only says that a grand jury could be called at the discretion of the judges of the court. In other words, I do not feel that Orange county and similar counties in the state need a grand jury each year. If the need arises, then under the new measure, the court has a right to call a grand jury. The cost of our recent grand jury was approximately $500. The grand jury made certain recommendations, but the history of the recommendations of the grand jury is that such recommendations are usually ignored.

Evidently other counties in the state feel that a yearly grand jury is unnecessary, for I received quite a number of communications about the act. The bill evidently struck a responsive chord with the editorial staff of the Sacramento Bee and the Fresno Bee, for each of the papers devoted more than a half column of editorial space, commending the measure.

I also introduced in the senate a bill affecting the county recorder's office, making it possible for a county recorder to photograph records. At the present time all records are copied and the originals are returned to the proper parties. Instead of copying the instruments at the county recorder's office, they can be photographed at a great saving. By photographing an instrument, we also have a permanent record of the signature, which we do not have under our present procedure. This act is an act that gives the county recorder the right to determine whether or not records shall be photographed rather than copied.

A saving can be made in the cost of the keeping of records. However, this saving will be made by throwing out of employment certain people who are now engaged in copying records. These people who, if the law passes and the county recorder decides to photograph records, will be then out of employment, are naturally opposed to the measure.

Another measure introduced in the senate by the writer has to do with drunk driving. We have come to the conclusion that alcohol and gasoline do not mix and people, not only in California and in other states are wondering just how the situation can be handled. The bill introduced by me provides that in the event a person is injured by one driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, that the automobile shall be confiscated by the state and the driver shall lose his driver's license forever. Under our present law, people have a right to drink as much or as little as they desire, but it is the opinion of a great many people in the state that if a person drinks, he then should not drive an automobile.

A bill was introduced in the senate and assembly, regulating the salaries of the judges of our superior courts. The judges, at the present time, are receiving a salary of $6500 per year. Prior to the depression, they were receiving a salary of $7000 per year. The judges voluntarily agreed to accept a reduction of $500 per year, but they feel now that the $500 reduction, which they took, should be returned to them.

San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties have been on a par, as far as county government is concerned, and the salaries paid in each of the three counties to county officials have been approximately the same. Prior to the depression, the judges of the three counties were receiving $7000 per year and it was agreed that the salaries in the three counties should be reduced $500 per year. The reduction was put through in Orange and San Bernardino counties. It was not put through in Riverside county, with the consequence that, during the depression, the superior court judges of San Bernardino and Orange counties, much larger than Riverside county, have been receiving $6500 per year. This measure was introduced for the purpose of equalizing the salaries in the three counties. However, it was introduced with the understanding that the raise would be recommended by the county grand jury and by the board of supervisors. The grand jury recommended the raise and I have their recommendation on file. The board of supervisors, up to the present time, has not recommended the raise, and unless the board of supervisors does recommend the raise in salaries of superior court judges, it is very doubtful if the measure will go through.

I apologize this week, in discussing the measures which I have been instrumental in filing in the state senate. During the January session, more than 3800 bills were introduced in the legislature. It will be impossible for me to discuss from the columns of this paper each and every bill introduced. I will discuss, however, from time to time, the bills which are of the most interest to the people of this county.

JOBS OPEN IN FIVE SANTA ANA HOMES

Housekeeper Shortage Is Reported Here by NRS Office

There's no unemployment problem in one line of work in Santa Ana.

Girls and women who can qualify as good housekeepers will have no trouble getting a job, if the situation at the National Reemployment service headquarters here is an indication of the situation in the city.

D. P. Cram, interviewer at the NRS office in the postoffice building, announced today that the demand for housekeepers is exceeding the supply at the present time.

In addition to this situation, the NRS expects to be swamped with calls for women housekeepers when transfer of the employment division of the county welfare department to the NRS is completed. Right now there are five good jobs begging for someone to fill them, Cram said. One of them is for a housekeeper in a motherless home. This particular job pays $25 a month with room and board and time off. Another job open is for a companion for an elderly woman who still is active, at a salary of $30 a month and room and board. Three other housekeeping jobs are open.

Women or girls interested in jobs such as these were asked to call at the NRS office to register for work.

Wants Air Corps Pensions Doubled

WASHINGTON.—Families of military personnel connected with the air corps of both army and navy may rest secure in event of accident to their kin if a bill introduced in congress by Senator Copeland of New York meets with favor. The bill, known officially as "senate bill 694," would pay double pensions to service men killed or injured in the line of duty and while engaged in the operation of aircraft or the official handling of aircraft.

Claim Fascists Get German Aid

VALENCIA, Spain (AP)—The Socialist government's ministry of marine declared it had proof that German aid to Spanish Fascists was continuing.

The statement said an "official report" received here declared: "On the night of Jan. 31 10 or 12 Junkers, headed southeast, flew over Berne (Switzerland). The planes entered Swiss territory east of Basle, and left, passing over Leman lake, with the undeniable destination of Burgos (Fascist seat of government)."

Strapped Arms and Crutches Mark Spain's Manpower

(Editor's note: Here are more jottings from the notebook of an Associated Press war correspondent in Spain, incidents at the insurgent front and in rest billet to the rear.)

TALAVERA DE LA REINA, Spain. (AP)—Months of war dig into Spain's manpower. . . . Reserves are being called to the insurgent side. . . . They march through the streets. . . . Blue overalls. . . . Brand-new cartridge belts and arms. . . . They've been told to come to war. . . . No feverish political enthusiasm here. On the parade ground the conscripts stand about awkwardly. . . . Running haltingly. . . . Throwing themselves flat in strange, unaccustomed motion of knees and arms. . . . They've been told to come to war. . . . No feverish political enthusiasm here.

Mounds of Dirt
Months of war show their mark in wounded. . . . Strapped arms and crutches. . . . Scars where bandages have been removed. . . . An empty coat sleeve. . . . White spots of ash along the roads where corpses have been burned. . . . Mounds of dirt where they have been buried.

The never-ending Hollywood touch of make-believe about front line cafes. . . . Atmosphere. . . . Turbans of Moors through a haze of cigaret smoke. . . . Red, yellow, green. . . . The handsome, white-lined coats of Moorish officers. . . . Coffee in one hand, rifle in the other. . . . Oddities of the war. . . . Two tanks being repaired in a roadside garage. . . . A group of Moors at target practice. . . . Shooting at cans in a gully. . . . Holding rifle at hip and never missing the target. . . . Soldiers sitting at long benches in a small schoolhouse writing letters.

Girl and Bullets
Strange characters. . . . The cavalry officer, complete with monocle, steel helmet, wristband of revolver bullets. . . . An attractive girl who went through the Alcazar siege, also with a wristband of revolver bullets.

Foreign volunteers. . . . Young Italian aviators, smartly dressed in brown flying suits with fur collars. . . . A blond German standing erect in the cockpit of a tank. . . . An Englishman with his head shaved. . . . A sturdy Czech with an almost impossible load of hand grenades around his waist.

The government of Northern Ireland has guaranteed $1,000,000 toward the cost of constructing and equipping the new aircraft factory at Belfast.

DRIVERS ARE MISLED BY ROAD ADS

Patrol Chief Launches Drive for Removal of Menace

When you see a road sign that says "Stop!" you ought to stop. But when you find it says "Stop! Hot Dogs," it makes you sore; and maybe you don't stop next time when you should.

So E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway patrol, started to work today on a campaign to have misleading road signs removed. And Capt. Henry Meehan, chief of the local patrol office, seconded the motion.

"I haven't received any official word on it," Captain Meehan said, "but I understand these misleading signs are going to be removed as the result of this campaign. Lights, signals, and signs for advertising purposes often confuse drivers. Suppose a drive stops by mistake and the fellow behind him doesn't stop. Then the sign has caused an accident, besides making drivers more prone to ignore such signs."

Cato said in Sacramento that he had issued orders to begin an immediate check for offending signs, signals, or lights. He said complaints would be sought against owners who refuse to remove them on request of officers.

Valentine Appointments Chosen by Mrs. Milo Tedstrom for Bridge Luncheon

Twenty-One Seated at Tables

Three Given Awards at Conclusion of Card Games

Red ramunculus and stock blended their colors in beautiful Valentine bouquets for the centers of the small tables at which Mrs. Milo K. Tedstrom presided yesterday when she entertained at luncheon in her home at 2215 North Flower street.

The St. Valentine season inspired all appointments for the tables, which were spread with dainty linens, the red and white color accents appearing in nut cups and candies, and later in the tally cards which directed the guests to the bridge tables.

Contract followed luncheon, and at the close of the playing Mrs. Harvey Gardner was awarded first prize, Mrs. Dexter Ball, second, and Mrs. Ira Kroese, who had assisted Mrs. Tedstrom in hostess duties, a courtesy gift.

CORONATION INSPIRING NEW GOWNS

PARIS. (AP)—The forthcoming coronation of King George VI of England formed the inspiration today for gowns richly embroidered in jewels and flower-garlanded frocks in the collection of Maggy Rouff.

A white crepe evening dress was polka dotted with rhinestones and a white jersey model had a ruby studded belt and bodice. Metal nailheads formed scroll patterns to cover blouses and trim coats.

Flowers in many colors wreathed the full skirts of chiffon dresses and covered purses to be carried with afternoon frocks which echoed the motif with blossom trimmed neck lines.

White was featured in tailored suits and cape and coat ensembles of silk or wool. Black lace bag and jabots were shown as accessories for white tailcoats.

Straightline coats of printed crepe or plaid wool were offered with matching frocks. Some long printed plique coats were shown with plain dresses while gathered fullness in the back was a feature of separate belted coats.

Outside seaming added novelty to coats and suits overstepped in contrasting colors.

X. N. O. CLUB SHOWERS MEMBER

Mrs. W. R. Edwards assumed hostess responsibilities for the X. N. O. club this week, entertaining the members Wednesday at her home on South Birch street and turning part of the afternoon into a tea towel shower with Mrs. R. A. McPhee as honored guest.

These showers have become the traditional manner in which the club observes birthdays of the members this year, several having already been celebrated in this way.

Sewing and visiting were enjoyed by the group who included Mrs. McPhee, Mrs. A. R. Bennett, Mrs. Don T. Edwards, Mrs. W. L. Harbert, Mrs. M. O. Johnson, Mrs. F. E. Lentz, Mrs. E. E. Perry, Mrs. H. R. Trott, and the hostess, Mrs. Harbert will entertain them next at her home, 2050 South Broadway.

CHURCH UNION ASSEMBLES IN PAUL HOME

Sixty members and friends of the First Congregational church Women's union gathered for a covered dish luncheon on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Paul in Tustin. Mrs. Paul later presiding over an afternoon meeting of the group.

Southeast section members were hostesses for the luncheon hour, which was followed by another in the series of talks which the Rev. Mr. Perry F. Schrock is giving on "The Beginnings of the Congregational Church in America." These will be continued at the next meeting.

Mrs. Idris Thomas, assistant secretary of the Los Angeles association of the Southern California Federation of Congregational Women, spoke to the union on "Ways and Means" and Mrs. Clarence Nisson of Tustin gave two entertaining readings.

Plans for the first of the study dinners, next Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock at the church, were made, and the Rev. Mr. Brewer Eddy of New York City was announced as the first speaker.

Section meetings for next Wednesday were announced as follows: Northwest section, at the church, 2 p. m., with Mrs. H. E. Smith as hostess; southeast section, at home of Mrs. Nell Winslow, 502 East Pine street, 2 p. m.; southwest section, home of Miss Minnie Hasty, 1513 West Fourth street, 2 p. m. Northeast section will not meet, because of much illness in its ranks. Sewing will be done at all meetings.

LENTEN LUNCHEONS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Guests Join Founders of P. - T. A. Meeting

When Mrs. Jack Geraghty, a member of Pegasus club who lives over in Glendale, visited the club yesterday on one of the rare occasions on which she is able to meet with them now, she was allowed to set the topic for the afternoon and chose the well-known couplet from the verses of Robert Louis Stevenson:

"The world is so full of a number of things
I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Malcolm Macurda, 1424 Spurgeon street, the hostess serving refreshments on dainty trays before the program was opened.

Four Guests Welcomed
Welcomed as guests by the club that afternoon were Mrs. R. L. Fitzgerald of Glendale, sister of Mrs. Geraghty, who accompanied her to Santa Ana for the day; and Mrs. G. R. Stevens and Mrs. D. G. Tidball, both of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Geraghty introduced her theme with a biographical sketch of the life of Stevenson, and then read a poem of her own, entitled "The Prodigal."

Original contributions from the other members included a poem, "Sufficient," read by Mrs. George W. Bond, who reported another of her verses, "Day's End," accepted recently for the anthology published by the Illinois branch of the National League of Penwomen; a poem, "Lovely Things," by Mrs. Frank Landown; "The Cynic," a humorous poem by Mrs. Rose Jackson, who also read an article she had written, "A Remedy for Present Ills."

Poems and Sketches
Poem, "My Daily Thanks," by Mrs. Nelson Vissel; an original poem, "Happy Kings," by Mrs. Macurda, who then read a short story which had been sent to her by a Los Angeles friend for reading and criticism; and a poem, "Things Alphabetical," by Mrs. Frank Was.

Mrs. Tedball, one of the guests, read a lovely poem, "These Are the Things I Love in February," by Mrs. Vissel closed the program by singing "Sylvia," on request, with accompaniment by Mrs. Macurda.

Those present but not taking part in the program were Mrs. Rose Havelly and Mrs. Charles Brisco.

JUDGE MITCHELL PERFORMS RITES FOR OLD FRIEND

The home of Judge and Mrs. John G. Mitchell, 316 South Sycamore, was the setting Wednesday evening for the wedding of an old friend of the Mitchells, Mrs. Blanche L. Nellis of Long Beach, and McQuinn Williams of Los Angeles. Judge Mitchell reading the service, which united the couple in wedlock.

The bride wore a silk ensemble of a lovely tan shade, with brown accessories, and with a corsage of American beauty roses which was the gift of the groom.

Following the ceremony, the bride couple entertained the Mitchells as their guests at breakfast at Danagers, where Mrs. Daniger had arranged a charming little bridal table all in white and with a small wedding cake and tall white tapers as a centerpiece. The later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for a honeymoon trip to San Diego and Phoenix, Ariz., following which they will reside in Long Beach.

MOTHERS CLUB TAKES UP NEW SUBJECT

"When Children Appear in Public" was the topic which occupied the attention of members of the Mothers' club yesterday when they met at the home of Mrs. John W. Fraley, 1334 South Van Ness street.

The mothers met at 11 o'clock, and discussed their study topic for two hours under leadership of Mrs. John Adams. At noon, the hostess served a dessert course to the following:

Mrs. Herbert Haysom, Mrs. C. L. Williams, Mrs. J. E. Sims, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Nylin Hurd,

All past presidents of Hoover Parent-Teacher association, including those who served during its years as Hoover Mothers' club, answered roll call at yesterday's Founders' day program held at the school with Mrs. E. D. Froeschle, the present head, presiding.

These honored guests were, in the order of their terms, Mrs. C. E. Bressler, Mrs. Hugh Flavin, Mrs. Otto Schroeder, Mrs. A. L. Helberg, now of Pasadena, Mrs. John Ball and Mrs. Horace Howard.

It was during Mrs. Howard's term that the Hoover Mothers' club, which had existed since the building of the school in 1930, became affiliated with the Parent-Teacher organization.

Three principals have served the school during that time, working with the Mothers' club in its activities, Miss Linda Paul for the first three years, Hazel Bemis the next two years, and Miss Isabel Lindsay from 1934 to the present time.

Musical program for yesterday's meeting was provided by Miss Myrtle Martin and her group of girl student singers from the junior college.

Mrs. Harry C. Brown, president of Fourth District Parent-Teacher association, was the speaker of the day, paying tribute in her talk to the two founders of the national P. T. A., Mrs. Alice Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Hurst, who organized the Mothers' congress 40 years ago in February to promote the welfare of children.

The organization now exists not only in all parts of the United States, she pointed out, but also in Alaska and Hawaii.

In a beautiful candlelighting ceremony at the close, Mrs. Froeschle lighted two blue tapers in memory of the founders, and a beautiful blue and white birthday cake was cut and served with the tea arranged by a group of hostesses.

Corsage bouquets were presented to the past presidents, to Mrs. Brown, and to Mrs. Froeschle. Mrs. John J. Vernon was chairman of hostesses for the day, with Mrs. F. A. Burkett, Mrs. Russell Crouse, Mrs. Leon Lauderbach, Mrs. C. P. Leithoff, and Mrs. George Huffman assisting her.

WOMAN'S CLUB SECTIONS MEET NEXT WEEK

Five section meetings for four days make next week a busy one for members of the Santa Ana Woman's club.

Tuesday is the double-up day, with one section scheduled for morning and another in the afternoon. Poetry section members are to have their meeting at 9:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. B. J. Brooks, 808 North Olive street, and each is to bring an original cinquain on the Valentine theme.

At 1 p. m., philanthropy section is sponsoring a benefit dessert bridge at the home of Mrs. C. V. Linsbard. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. E. O. Ahern, the section leader, or Mrs. F. A. Martin, club president.

Home craft section will have a pot-luck luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Agnes Wimbush, 1108 South Van Ness.

On Thursday at 2 p. m., garden section will resume meetings again with a session at the home of Mrs. G. N. Coon, 807 Orange avenue.

Study section's meeting is to be Friday at 12 noon, a pot-luck luncheon at the home of Mrs. Charles Stanley, 1135 West First street.

De Molay Mothers
De Molay Mothers' circle is to meet for a pot-luck supper next Tuesday night with Mrs. Fay Mann as hostess. All mothers are urged to attend.

Mrs. Virgil Kisner, Mrs. Josh L. Wilson, Mrs. L. D. Spencer, Mrs. Guy T. Maties, Mrs. Kenneth Loughan, all members of the club, and Mrs. Roger Lindsey, a guest.

Mrs. Haysom will entertain the club next at her home at 326 South Garnsey street.

MARY STODDARD Woman Reader Wants to Know Why Men Are More Honest Than Women

By MARY STODDARD

"Why is it that a man is more frank and honest than a woman?" One might suppose this query was sent by a man. To the contrary the interrogation is from a woman who claims that her experience in life has proved this to be true. She tells us about it in the following letter: Dear Miss Stoddard: Why is it that a man is more frank

METHODIST WOMEN HAVE MUSICAL TEA

Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church had a musical tea this week when it met in the church parlors with its president, Mrs. H. W. Guthrie, presiding and Mrs. Emma Carhart leading devotionals.

An interesting visitor was Mrs. A. Montague, president of the San Diego district, who told about the monthly board meeting she had just attended in Los Angeles and of some of the work being done in connection with Indians on the reservations.

The Rev. Mr. Stone, pastor of the colored Baptist church, and Mrs. Stone were guests at the meeting, participating in the afternoon program; and Mrs. George Scurie of Los Angeles, a former member of the society, was also present.

Reviews Study Books
To open the program, Mrs. Muriel White gave the review of the study book, "A Preface to Understanding of the Social Problem of the Negro," taking up the educational and religious contributions of that race.

Miss Sedalia Cubbison paid a tribute to the two former presidents whose birthdays are honored this month, and read Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" and several treasured letters from George Washington.

The interesting history of negro spirituals and classical contributions to music by the negroes was given by Miss Lenore Tompkins, and this was followed by the singing of three spirituals by Rev. and Mrs. Stone. For an encore, they sang one of their own composition, "It's All the Plan of Salvation."

Two piano solos were given by Marcella Shanefelt and Verna Marie Osborn, students of Miss Tompkins; vocal selections were given by a trio, Mrs. Blanche Owens, Mrs. Jack Snow, and Mrs. Harry Hayes, accompanied by Miss Tompkins; and the latter accompanied Mrs. Owens also in a solo, "Deep River."

The program closed with community singing of "Old Black Joe," and tea and refreshments were served by a group of hostesses in colonial costumes. These were Mrs. C. A. Linwood, Miss Grigsby, and Mrs. J. W. McCormack. Miss Grigsby and Miss Mary Lamb presided at the tea table, the latter also in colonial garb.

COUNTY CLUB FEDERATION
Mrs. W. D. James, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, will address Orange county federation Monday at an all-day meeting in the Brea Congregational church. Mrs. Archibald Edwards will preside over the session, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mrs. Decker Wednesday Hostess

Mrs. Mildred L. Decker was hostess to her bridge club on Wednesday, entertaining at a prettily arranged 1 o'clock luncheon at Danagers, where a table was appointed with red candles and appointments in the Valentine motif.

Bridge was later enjoyed in the lounge, high award going to Mrs. A. P. Trawick, second to Mrs. Frank Brigante, and low to Mrs. Claude Sleeper.

Members of the club present, in addition to those who carried away the prizes, were Mrs. Francis Edmunds, Mrs. Elmer Sullivan, Mrs. Don Hillyard, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Al Hall, Mrs. Joe Harless, Mrs. Dean Campbell, Mrs. John Miller and the hostess.

AUXILIARY PLANS TICKET SALE FOR BALL

Mrs. Dean Laub entertained members of the Women's Auxiliary to Jack Fisher D. A. V. post Wednesday night at her home, a group devoting most of the time to business, with plans for the big Ninth Annual Military ball uppermost in their minds.

The women will assist in selling of tickets for the affair, which is to be Wednesday night, Feb. 23, in the Valencia ballroom. Mrs. Van Leonard Brown heads the ticket sale committee.

An all-day sewing meeting is planned by the auxiliary next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. L. Redford, 1327 South Van Ness, with a pot-luck luncheon at noon.

or brothers. Why this is so no one really knows, unless it is woman's peculiar vanity and ego, or should I say, righteousness?

We have all known the female who just dearly loved to get something in the way of scandal on an acquaintance. She often is not morally better than her acquaintance but somehow, the telling and retelling of the "tidbit" actually makes her feel better and increases her "more holy than thou" attitude.

Let me say this, however. Give some men the same amount of leisure the average wife finds in her neighborhood and confine them to a smaller territory and fewer associates than they enjoy in the business world, and I'll show you a group of gossipists that will put all the Mrs. "I-Told-You-So's" and "Fussbudgets" in the world to shame.

Advices Feet Exercising Every Day

By JACQUELINE HUNT
Stand on the very edge of the bottom step, with your arches and heels hanging over, your toes gripping the treads so you do not lose your balance. If this is difficult at first, hold on to the banister rail until you have developed strength enough in your ankles and toes to keep you in position.

Now lower the heels as far as you can without sliding off the step. When your heels are as low as they will go, start moving up slowly until your weight is supported on your toes. Repeat this exercise 10 times or more every time you start up stairs or down. It is good for your calves, too, and you know how important good-looking legs are now that skirts are swinging upward again!

This foot exercise can be taken after your bath when you are seated on your bath stool or when you sit down to change your shoes and stockings. Cross your legs and start with the foot that hangs free. Clasp your hands firmly around your toes, and twist your foot around and around. Let the toes make a circle in the air while you rotate your foot from the ankle.

Press your foot downward with your hand, then pull to force it upward and stretch your ankle muscles as much as possible. Circle 10 times in each direction, then cross your legs the other way, and exercise the other foot. A good massage usually begins her body massage with this simple foot exercise.

If your feet are the tired, swollen kind or if they perspire a lot, bathe them at least once when they get when you have your daily tubbing. Wash thoroughly with soapsuds, rinse in warm then cold water. Dry thoroughly and massage with rubbing alcohol or eau de Cologne. Finally dust with foot powder.

Feet that are rough in texture dry-skinned or very sensitive will appreciate a rubbing with a good cold cream or a soothing foot salve after bathing.

FIFTH SECTION LUNCH TUESDAY

The Fifth Household Economic section of Ebell club will meet for its regular luncheon at 12 o'clock Tuesday in the clubhouse, after which Mrs. John Cloyes will review one of Noel Coward's plays from the recent published book, "Tonight at Eight-Thirty."

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Dean Waynick, Mrs. H. L. Stone, Mrs. F. E. Pimental, and Mrs. F. A. Burkett. Those unable to attend are asked to telephone Mrs. Stone at 2680 by Monday.

BENEFIT PARTY OF A. A. U. W. TO BE MARCH 6

The benefit bridge party sponsored each year by the local branch of the American Association of University Women to raise funds for its junior college loan fund will be given March 6 in the Ebell clubhouse. It was decided at a meeting of the executive board held last evening at the home of Miss Martha Ehlen, the president.

The afternoon card party will include a dessert course, a brief musical program, and a fashion review of frocks from the Work Basket. Girls' service club of the junior college will assist in serving and making arrangements for the affair.

Committee heads announced last night include Miss Mabel Whiting, tickets; Mrs. Horace Scott, reception; Miss Martha Ehlen, refreshments; Mrs. Laurence Minge and Miss Mary Blair, cards and covers; Mrs. Ray Adkinson, playing; and Miss Ruth Frothingham, publicity.

The regular monthly meeting of the A. A. U. W. will be held next Thursday in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, with Miss Mary Blair in charge of the program. Miss Blair is chairman of the committee on vocational opportunities, and has arranged, under that heading, for Miss Edith Weir, director of the placement bureau of the University of Southern California, to speak.

An interesting feature will be the distribution of mimeographed copies of psychological tests for vocational fitness.

MASONS' WIVES ORGANIZE NEW CLUB

Wives of the Masons in Jubilee F. and A. M. lodge will henceforth be known as the Jubilee-ettes on the first Thursday night of each month when they will gather for bridge parties while their husbands are attending their stated meetings.

Organization of this new club was effected last night at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Harvey Dimmitt, 2346 Riverside drive, 34 wives forming the original membership of the group.

Plans were made to hold their meetings on the first Thursday of the month, in the homes of the members, and to meet next at the home of Mrs. Guy Christian on East Santa Clara street.

Contract and auction bridge will be played, and those not caring for cards will spend the evening sewing.

Mrs. Dimmitt has been chosen first president of the new organization, with Mrs. Fred Pope filling the duties of secretary-treasurer for this first term.

EBELL SECTION CONSIDERS THE PINEAPPLE

Fragrance of hyacinths and violets greeted members of the third household economics section of Ebell club yesterday when they assembled in the section room of the Ebell clubhouse for their February luncheon, arranged by Mrs. E. L. Morrison, chairman, Mrs. C. Williams and Mrs. W. B. Williams.

Bouquets of these pretty spring blossoms and maiden hair fern centered the small tables at which places were laid for 15.

Taking as her subject "Pineapple," Mrs. W. B. Williams read an interesting paper which she had prepared, showing how the real cultivation of this delicious fruit for common usage had started about 25 years ago and how it is now used in almost every kitchen in the land.

First experiments in raising pineapples commercially were made back in 1836. One of the leading figures in the "pineapple kingdom" today is James D. Dole, who is now in the land.

Bath Insures A Restful Night's Sleep

By JACQUELINE HUNT
If you have had a wearisome day, and your evening has not been the kind that lets you relax, try to take a short, outdoor walk before you get ready for bed. If this isn't practical, then here are some bath and bedroom suggestions that will subdue your jumpy nerves sufficiently to insure sound slumber.

One of the best antidotes against fatigue and nerves is the sedative bath. Have it sweet-smelling and tepid or pleasantly warm and do not try to hurry. If you have one of the amusing little rubber pillows that hook onto your tub so you can lie back in comfort, use it. If not place a thick towel or bath mat over the end of the tub. Rest for ten minutes—twenty—in the fragrant water until you no longer feel conscious of your body.

Before getting out, stretch your toes and fingers leisurely like a wakening from its nap. This light, effortless exercise is good for you. If you feel like it, use cream and massage your face, file your fingernails or push back your cuticles while you are in the tub. If that seems too much like work just ponder on the pleasant things of life.

If your eyes are jumpy and tired from the strain of the day, be sure to place over them some little cotton pads soaked in warm salt water or boric acid solution or use some of the fragrant herb packs that you can buy ready to use. Before you know it you will be asleep in your tub if you don't watch out.

Garden Secrets

By Willis Cadwallader of Blanding Nurseries

"Each morn a thousand Roses brings you say."

"Yes, but where leaves the Rose of Yesterday?"

—Rubiayat of Omar Khayyam.

The rose of yesterday has been commemorated in literature by Chaucer and by Shakespeare. It was used as an emblem in "The War of the Roses."

Roses were used to blanket the face of the host at a Roman banquet. In fact, roses have been so long an important part of history that it hardly seems possible to make an improvement in them, but in spite of this hybridizers are continually bringing out more new kinds for introduction to the public.

Roses of olden days were not beautiful by the standards of florists, but as a mass display they have been beautiful enough to live through the centuries. The cabbage rose is said to have been a favorite among the ancient Romans. The red and white mottled York and Lancaster rose is as old as the sixteenth century, and was written about in Shakespeare's sonnets. It is standing now in the grounds of Hawthorne's old home in Salem, Mass.

The early roses were highly fragrant, a quality that has been lost in breeding for beauty. The damask rose, one of those noted for its perfume, was the parent of the perpetual roses.

The old hundred-leaved and musk roses were well known in England more than 300 years ago, and the sweetbrier and dogrose were also old favorites.

Fashion has almost outdone herself in the mad rush for tearosers. These old-time roses are almost unheard of in the market today. Even the well known perpetual roses of a quarter century ago are seldom mentioned in the rush for perfect flower buds.

And in the hybridization of flower buds, the foliage and longevity of plant life have suffered until at the present time roses are good for but a few years and have to be replanted.

Our Modern Roses
There is no question but the modern rose far exceeds the old-time rose in quality and form of flower, and undoubtedly the future rose will combine these present-day qualities with the qualities of the past for an even more perfect and desirable rose.

The dormant season, which will hostesses.

Hostesses for next month are Mrs. Christian, Mrs. Barge and Mrs. Dean. The party will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening, and all wives of Jubilee Masons are invited. All planning to attend are asked to call one of the hostesses.

Exophthalmic Goiter Is Dangerous

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M. D.
Exophthalmic goiter is a constitutional disease apparently due to excessive, abnormal secretion from an enlarged thyroid gland. It seems to be a disease of civilization occurring most frequently in young adults in our cities. It may be due to focal infections and sometimes follows nervous shock or strain.

The patients become restless and nervous. They grow very irritable and sometimes develop a violent temper. There is a feeling of great fatigue, but they seem to feel an inward drive that forces them to do many needless things. There is usually an abnormal appetite with a feeling of warmth and increased perspiration.

Palpitation of the heart is common with shortness of breath. A fine tremor of the hands and lips causes much discomfort and apprehension. The facial expression is rather peculiar. The eyes stand out in the sockets with much white showing and the lids cannot quite come down to cover the ball. The face is flushed usually, and there are many purposeless facial movements. The heart is enlarged, beats very rapidly and the muscle soon becomes weak, followed by shortness of breath and general weakness.

The condition is a grave one and unless controlled, death from exhaustion or heart failure may result. Physical and mental rest, away from home if possible is necessary. The diet should be liberal, indeed it should be excessive, about twice the normal amount. If this isn't possible, operation for removal of a portion of the thyroid should be attempted.

In severe cases it is very dangerous, but bed rest and the administration of large doses of iodine for several weeks will often render operation safe.

HONORS HUSBAND IN FAREWELL

Mrs. E. E. Frisby honored her husband when she entertained at a farewell dinner in their home at 1012 Kilson drive last night, on the eve of his departure for Berkeley and the University of California.

Places at the attractively set dinner table were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thorman and Mr. and Mrs. James McCalla of Tuslin, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Perkins of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Roland McCalla and Mrs. V. C. Shidler, and the guest of honor and hostess.

Bridge followed dinner, and the Albert Thormans carried off high honors in the playing. Low prizes went to Mrs. Roland McCalla and James McCalla.

The Shidlers and Mrs. Frisby will accompany the honored guest to the train in Los Angeles this evening, seeing him off at 6 o'clock for the north, where he will take a university course in engineering.

continue until the first of March, the time for planting bare root roses. A few of those obtainable now on the market, that have been tested and found to be very good for Southern California conditions are Autumn, a burnt orange blossom; Caladonea, snow white; Dame Edith Helen, pink; Duchess of Athol, bronze pink; E. G. Hill, bright scarlet; Golden Emblem, golden yellow; Hadley, crimson; Imperial Potentate, rose pink; Ivanna Hill, orange yellow; K. A. Victoria, creamy white; Lady Margaret Stewart, yellow, veined with scarlet.

Los Angeles, pink-yellow; Lulu, coral-apricot; Mrs. G. A. Van Rosen, orange-yellow; Mrs. E. P. Thom, yellow; Night, black-red; President Hoover, multi-colored; Radiance, pink; Red Radiance, cerise red; Sunburst, orange to yellow; Talsman, multi-colored; Ville de Paris, yellow.

There are so many fine roses that it is difficult to make up a list, and a great many more roses than these may be found at the local nurseries.

There are numerous climbers. Many of the above-named bush roses have developed climbing varieties, and many of these same varieties may be had as tree roses, as well.

Japan's New Prime Minister Is Real Man of Action

By the Associated Press

Japan's new prime minister, General Senjuro Hayashi, is no sabre-rattler although a thorough soldier.

He has held aloof both from the extreme army element which has ambitions to dictate the course of empire, and the civilian political parties with which some of his colleagues, notably the unfortunate General Kazushige Ugaki, have flirted.

Japan has had many generals as premier before, but none so completely the simple soldier as Hayashi. His uniformed predecessors have been soldier-statesmen, with wide administrative experience which he lacks.

General Hayashi appears anything but an esteemed, stern militarist. He is short, slight, and like most of his fellows, wears a luxuriant mustache, which flows out well beyond his prominent ears and then turns slightly downward.

He seldom smiles. His eyes are mild, his gray hair close-cropped, after the Japanese military fashion. He usually clasps his small, thin, almost transparent hands before him on the table as he talks. He speaks quietly and directly. He almost never smiles; humor has no part in his make-up.

The crisis through which Japan is passing, engendered by the clash between the active generals—Hayashi's juniors—and the civilians who oppose army domination, dictated the choice of such a man.

In the army's present temper it is almost imperative that Emperor Hirohito nominate a military man to succeed Koki Hirota. But public opinion dictated he should be moderate enough to allay popular fears of a militarist dictatorship in the offing.

That the army saw its extreme pretensions to power generally protested undoubtedly was reason for the conciliatory statement in which the generals' spokesman, General Count Juichi Teruchi, retiring minister of war, vigorously denied he and his fellows sought to impose Fascism or military dictatorship on the empire.

General Hayashi resigned as war minister in September, 1935, and became a member of the supreme war council. He resigned that post after the February uprising last year, when all army members of the council assumed responsibility for lack of discipline in the armed forces and retiring.

Veal and Ham Pie Is New Dinner Dish

By JUDITH WILSON
Something new every meal in the week is not an impossibility, for even the old foods can have new dresses. Something different for tomorrow evening's dinner would be this veal and ham pie.

You will want 1/2 pound smoked ham and 2 pounds veal shoulder. Cut into rather small dice, flour lightly and brown in a heavy pan with veal drippings. Remove the browned meat and brown 2 sliced onions, 1/2 cup diced celery and 4 potatoes cut in cubes in the fat. Arrange the meat and vegetables in a casserole, add 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, a dash of pepper and 1 cup boiling water. Cover and bake in a slow oven for 2 hours. About 20 minutes before time to serve, drop dumplings on top of the stew, cover tightly and steam 15 minutes. Follow your favorite recipe for dumplings or use the prepared biscuit mixture.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

BEING the journal of a half-hearted journey, from thither to Santa Clemente, and from thither to Laguna. And part way back.

Everyone'll admit that yesterday was a nice day. A sort of day during which one hates to remain in an office, cubbyhole, or any place that reeks of job. And so what's a county editor, who has the privilege of going out and buzzing around, going to do?

You know as well as I—he's going to do a bit of buzzing!

The first step in the hither-to-thither trip was through Costa Mesa, where a building much was doing. Judge Donald Dodge wasn't in sight, and I saw Doc Huston heading for Santa Ana, so there was nothing left to do but keep right on going toward Newport. Which was easy, nothing facing the confirmed buzzer about but the Archer's interaction.

With that winding and puzzling overhead-underhead out of the way, a left-hand turn (against the law) onto Lido Isle looked inviting, so I took a chance on catching Paul Palmer, Robinson Crusoe of that particular bit of beach, in his office. He was there, with his family.

So we talked about islands for awhile, and I left knowing that islands are the best places to live. Bugs'n things can't swim over and get into homes. Building boom's booming. Lots of lots sold, and lots more customers. Things, Paul said, look scrumptious!

After smoking all the Palmer cigarettes, to traveling again. Newport. Uncle Sam Meyer, prominent publisher, out—to lunch, probably, in spite of the fact it was press day. Onward toward Balboa, where Chamber Secretary Harry Welch also was going. Tommy Bouchey didn't seem to be around admiring his new building, and the only person to acknowledge the visit was Fire Chief Frank Crocker, who was sitting on a stool sipping a succulent malted milk and beefing because it was too thick. The malt, I mean.

Thence to Heinz Kaiser's Bay Shore camp, where clam chowder (adv.) burned the editorial gullet. Excellent chowder, the best this side—and the other side, too—of Pismo Beach!

And then, heigh-ho, for San Clemente, via Corona Del Mar, Three Arch Bay, Laguna, Elmer Crawford's Coast Royale and Dave Prenter's Dana Point.

At Clemente City Clerk Bill Holmes recalls the good old days in England. Talk of transportation, when bill lived 80 miles from London, and was whisked—I use the word advisedly—into the Big Town in an hour, which was speeding, even in those days. Fast trains, claimed Bill, have been the vogue in England for many a year.

Bill also discussed his community. After hearing him talk, I'm always about ready to pack up the editorial poultry and hie away for the Spanish Village. They didn't even suffer from smudge, he claimed. And the city's in the best financial shape since it was started, which, really is something!

If Judge Fred Warner, the shapely expert, had stayed in his office, I'd have called on him, too!

Then toward Capistrano, where folks weren't where they should have been, either. Frances Sheridan, manager at the mission, was out. Judge John Landell, my good friend who tells all sorts of stories about early days in his mission town, also was gone. At least, the door to his chamber of horrors for lawbreakers was locked, which was enough for me!

So, a short visit with Editor Verner Beck, just about to lock up the final page bearing the weekly Seminal Chills in his Coastline Dispatch. Editor Beck and his able assistant, Linotyper Johnson, shivering from too high ceiling and not enough heat and too much flu!

And then back through Dana Point, where Dave Prenter was still busy talking to prospects, I hope. Short stop for a look over the railing down into the ocean from out on the point—that in itself is worth the trip—see the seaweed and seagulls from a couple of hundred feet up—a wonderful!

Laguna again, and a talk about yesterday's in the Art Colony with Agnes Yoch West, who knows whereof she speaks about her beach town.

Also discussions concerning starfish and hatchets with young ladies. Couple of minutes of contemplation under eucalyptus trees, which are lovely even if hard to spell, and then buzzing homeward again. Dumb drivers in Laguna canyon, although one can't blame 'em. The Missouri car slows down and occupants stare at small homes. Looking for artists, probably expecting to see 'em behind bars, or something!

And then the job again. Boss Bradshaw, the Simon Legree of The Journal, wanting to know if the wandering county department had stirred up any "bellringers". The nerve of that guy, expecting a person to work when it's such nice weather!

I'm going to sue him!

$1,500,000 BUILDING YEAR PREDICTED FOR HARBOR AREA

FIRST MONTH FISH BATTLE OF 1937 IN HUGE GAIN RAGES IN LAGUNA

$70,000 Record Set as Builders Rush Plans For Campaign

NEWPORT-BALBOA. — Make it $1,500,000! A mere million will not be enough to cover new building in Newport harbor district this year.

Hustling through $100,000 of construction underway, with $70,000 in new building permits already issued this year and more than $50,000 of plans awaiting only the owners' approval of contractors' bids, the winter month just passed has barely whispered of the spring campaign now in the bud.

Nelson Busy Not that A. M. Nelson, building inspector, has anything to say about it. He has no time to talk. He's too busy.

Nor are contractors like Gordon Findlay, Irving George Gordon and the rest exactly standing on corners to gossip, or roaming around nights. They have too many jobs to figure.

Bids were being prepared today for six new homes in Corona Del Mar, where the Vista Shores tract alone has approximately $40,000 of residence work ready to start, according to Guy G. Barnes.

Harrison to Build Santa Ana's C. W. Harrison, president of the Alliance Insurance company, has approved plans by Architect Donald Beach Kirby for a new home on the ocean front estimated to cost $20,000. Architect Kirby also has completed plans for a $85,000 house in Vista Shores for Dr. Hal Bieler of Pasadena, and in the same tract a $10,000 house for A. J. Twist, for 14 years a Balboa resident and now president of the Newport Harbor Realty board.

From Laguna Beach comes Architect Thomas J. Harper with plans for his own home in the Corona Del Mar subdivision and another for Earl J. Froning also of Laguna Beach.

40 Homes Planned First of the 40 new residences reported promised for construction this year already is well underway on Lido Isle. Harbor Isle has a large new house approaching completion. Five jobs are keeping sub-trades busy on Balboa island. El Bayo, making its mark between Newport and Balboa on the bayfront with many new homes during the winter, has two more going up now.

Business building includes the $15,000 auto camp on the Coast highway edge of the bay, an $8,000 boat sales shop at Balboa, and expensive additions to the Palisades inn on the bluffs of Corona Del Mar being rushed to completion for the opening on about Feb. 25, owner Frank Miller, said.

ORANGE TO BUY NEW PUMP

ORANGE.—Bids for a booster pump for the city waterworks will be opened at the March 3 meeting of the city council, it was decided Wednesday night, when the council ordered City Attorney Gordon X. Richmond to advertise for the bids in accordance with required specifications.

Cost of the pump will be approximately $1500 and that amount was included in the yearly budget of the city. The pump is needed to replace worn-out machinery and to care for increase of water used in the summer months, Water Superintendent W. J. Richardson said.

TOWNSEND CLUB HAS MEETING

OCEANVIEW.—W. T. Vanduff, re-elected president of the Townsend club, presided at a meeting Tuesday night which opened with a pot-luck supper.

Reports on the Riverside convention were given by Mrs. and Mrs. John Stinson and George Weeks. Mrs. Stinson and Mrs. Arlington Lewis reported on a meeting they attended at Tustin.

Officers named at the recent election to serve with Vanduff include D. P. Ralston, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Arlington Lewis, secretary, and John Stinson, treasurer.

Farm Center Meetings

MONDAY Placentia center, 6:30 p. m. in Haiber's cafe. Subject: Program of Metropolitan Water district, with Col. S. H. Finley as speaker. A. W. Kammerer, president.

TUESDAY Tustin home department, 10 a. m. at home of Mrs. Guy Christian, East Santa Clara avenue. Subject: "Color Background for the Home," with Miss Frances Liles leading. Mrs. Guy Christian, chairman.

LAGUNA BEACH.—The lowly sardine gained both an international and local aspect this week in the spirited controversy over the fate of the little fish that finds itself in the protective custody of two opposing factions.

The sardine was labeled as "an international question" in a letter addressed to the city council by Lewis M. Hicks, executive secretary of the Pacific Coast Fisheries Institute, asking that the council rescind its approval of a proposed "Sardine Bill."

Meanwhile Leslie F. Kimmell of Laguna leads the fight to protect the fish while the canned delicacy in their native haunts have their own battle to avoid the protective nets of sardine boats which during the past few days, as in contentment of the heart—rending plight of the little fish, have been showing increasing activity offshore from Laguna.

SEEK LIBRARY PROJECT AID

GARDEN GROVE.—Patrons of the Garden Grove branch of the county library desiring to cooperate with the WPA county library project are requested by Librarian Mrs. Blanche Wisner to gather any old magazines and papers they may have and bring them to the library or chamber of commerce office before Feb. 25.

Workers on the project, she explained, will then go through the papers and magazines taking out articles which will be made into pamphlets and booklets. The completed booklets will be circulated wherever there is a need, she said. Later the library will cooperate with readers of the articles by having books available for follow up study or reading.

COMPLETE FIRST H. S. PROJECT

COSTA MESA.—George Bingo, Costa Mesa freshman at Harbor Union High school, has the honor of having completed the first project in the new Future Farmers of America chapter, recently organized here.

This project, which was a half-acre of Zucchini or Italian green squash, was planted about Sept. 1 and completed Jan. 1. A total of 61 lugs were harvested from the half-acre, with the total cost of production 49¢ per lug.

Disease and insect problems were minimized by frequent dustings of lime sulphur, no mildew being observed until the plants were ready to disc under.

BANKER SPEAKS BEFORE LIONS

GARDEN GROVE.—Interesting human elements entering into the services rendered by bank trust departments were told members of the Garden Grove Lions club by C. L. Pritchard of the first department of the Santa Ana Trust National bank when he spoke at Wednesday's luncheon meeting.

President J. W. Crill announced a board of directors' meeting for next Monday evening. Guests were R. E. Dawson, Pasadena, and Victor McClain.

ATTEND LUNCHEON GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. Charles Lake entertained at luncheon Wednesday, honoring Mrs. Howard Barnes, Brea, and Mesdames Virgil Sparks, Robert Smith, A. J. Woodworth and Ray Johnson. The afternoon was spent sewing and chatting.

TRAILERITES ARE OFF TO NOMAD'S LAND

Rolling Stones Head for Huntington Beach Moss-gathering

"The only hitch in this home sweep home is on the trailer," sighs Mrs. I. Tinerant, of Georgia, as she shoves a few spare tires from the front door of her traveling home in spring housecleaning preparatory to leaving for the Huntington Beach trailer convention in May.

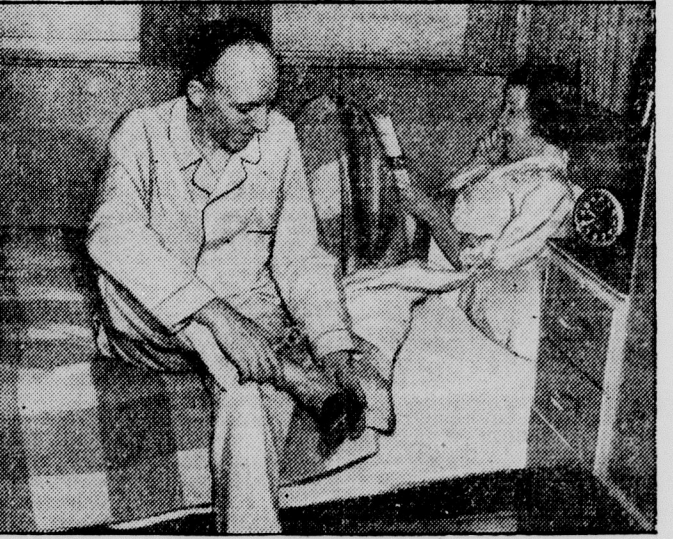

"We'll razor boy in Huntington Beach, if it's as nice out there as they claim," say Mr. I. Tinerant, as he rakes the stubble before starting for the convention.

In this picture the tin home-owner isn't preparing to smudge. He's lighting the fire for the last time. Won't need it at the Orange county convention, he hopes.

"How far is it to Huntington Beach?" wonders Mr. Tinerant, comfortably excoined on the housecar couch, with his brogans firmly planted in the sink. "I've heard that all records for attendance will be brogan during that big parking-lot parley. We'd better leave early!"

"This is better than a home on the range (yawn), it's a bed on the boulevard," argues the future Huntington Beach housewife, as she reads the latest news from trailer headquarters at the Orange county city and friend husband stares contentedly at the aching corn he hopes Southern California weather will cure.

"There's many a slip in the built-in refrigerator," chortles the confirmed trailerite, as he sneaks over a fast one while the rest of the family dreams.

FISH FIRE FRUSTRATES! Harbor Fire Damage Jumps

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—With plans for the first annual Pacific Coast trailer convention, to be held here May 28 to June 6, holding the spotlight, city officials at the last council session discussed a proposed trailer ordinance with City Attorney Ray H. Overacker.

As outlined the proposed ordinance would provide strict regulations for trailers used for streets and vacant lots. A 10-day time limit would be provided for camping at places other than regularly equipped trailer parks. Facilities at the latter would be made as attractive as possible.

Pending adoption of such an ordinance sponsors of the convention point with pride to many improvements already made at the two trailer parks. Installation of individual electric meters, requiring that only the amount actually used be paid for, was cited as an example.

A great deal of favorable publicity is expected to result from a discussion of trailer conventions by California Chamber of Commerce secretaries at their twenty-fourth annual conference at the Hotel Stockton, Stockton, February 11-12-13.

Wintersburg Aid Members Meet

WINTERSBURG.—Mrs. W. Allen Young, president of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church, presided at a meeting of the organization Wednesday afternoon in the church hall.

Mrs. Arlington Lewis, Mrs. John Freeman and Mrs. Muriel Hylton presided on the federated meeting of Methodist Aid societies at Garden Grove recently. Mrs. Carl Bergner and Mrs. John Freeman were named to have charge of the church dinner Feb. 17.

Grove Pension Supper Slated

GARDEN GROVE.—A pot-luck supper has been planned by the Garden Grove Townsend club for next Monday evening and will be held at the chamber of commerce offices at 6:30 o'clock.

At a meeting following, Grant Henderson of Santa Ana is scheduled to speak. The club president, Dewey S. Hubbard, has urged all members to attend and bring friends.

COUNTY WIDE LEADERS FOR MEET HELD BY ROTARY ARE NAMED

ORANGE.—More than 200 Rotarians from all parts of the county gathered Thursday noon at the American Legion hall to hear Marshall DeMott, governor of the second district of Rotary, speak on the objects of the organization.

He said that 100 new clubs have been added to the national organization in the past year, and yet attendance has not been as high as it should be. He stressed importance of united action and value of keeping a high ethical standard in the business world.

H. D. Nichols, president of the Orange club, presided, and Dr. Ralph Waltz, Anaheim president and president of the Orange County Council of Rotary clubs, was program chairman. Representatives from all county clubs were present, and Lyman Ferris was a guest from an Alaskan club.

Seven ministers who are Rotarians and their clubs were present, including the Rev. Albert Parks, Capistrano; the Rev. M. C. Shollenberger, Anaheim; the Rev. T. H. Walker, Anaheim; the Rev. J. G. Hurst, Huntington Beach; the Rev. D. J. Brigham, Placentia; the Rev. L. I. Chamblee, Fullerton; and Dr. Robert B. McAulay, Orange.

OCEAN TRAFFIC LAWS STUDIED

NEWPORT-BALBOA. — Bills proposing new regulations of ocean traffic for benefit of smaller craft of yachtsmen introduced by Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel at Sacramento were being studied by Harbormaster T. E. Bouchey today.

Ocean liners and freighters would be required to reduce speed when within three miles of the coastline and harbors and so assure greater safety for sailboats and light power boats cruising offshore, according to the summary of the bills.

Yachting traffic, growing heavier each year between here and Catalina island, demands the added protection the Kuchel bills insist. Merchantmen and passenger ships with their tidal wave of propeller wash have swamped too many small pleasure craft in passing, it was pointed out.

ARRANGE COAST GROUP FETE

NEWPORT-BALBOA. — Orange county's representatives at Sacramento, Senator Harry Westover and Assemblyman Thomas H. Kuchel and Clyde Watson will be guests of the Orange County Coast association Tuesday, Feb. 16 at dinner at Bird's cafe, Laguna Beach.

President Leslie F. Kimmell has invited the Orange county legislators to attend and give their views on the fish reserve bill for Orange county as well as upon other legislative matters particularly affecting the county of Orange.

New officers of the coast body include former Senator Nelson T. Edwards and former Speaker of the House Edward (Ted) Craig who were elected to the office of honorary vice presidents at the annual election and meeting held Jan. 19.

Orange Hi-Y Elects Officers

ORANGE.—Election of officers for the last half of the year for chapter No. 1, Orange Hi-Y, was held Wednesday evening, with Thomas Powell re-elected president.

Bob Baines, was named vice president; Karl Crist, secretary; Gilbert Bell, treasurer; Bill McNeill, sergeant-at-arms; Wayne Tarvin, athletic manager and Winston Nichols, publicity chairman.

SAFETY FIRST

(Fullerton News-Tribune) Among the residents of the vast flood area in the Middle West there are a few families who were able to laugh at the ravages of the waters. They were the occupants of automobile trailers, who hitched up at the first sign of danger and moved on to safer spots.

Houses on stilts were the refuge of our earlier ancestors. Houses on wheels may be the answer to the troubles of our moderns who inhabit areas subject to nature's worst whims.

DR. DEXTER

(Fullerton News-Tribune) Supervision of California education today passed into the hands of Dr. Walter Dexter, former president of Whittier college. Those who know Dr. Dexter will acclaim his appointment by Governor Merriam as state superintendent of public instruction as a wise one.

As president of Whittier college for 11 years, Dr. Dexter became thoroughly familiar with the practical side of operating an educational institution. The taxpayer can be assured that in his new position Dr. Dexter will stress the fundamentals of education and give no encouragement to frills and extravagances.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT

(Anaheim Bulletin) Death at the Orangethorpe crossing last Friday of a young man from Orange was indeed a shocking incident, and all the more so in its needlessness.

The victim drove onto the tracks in front of a speeding train and was ground to shreds.

What sort of confusion arose to cause the mishap never will be known. There are indications that the driver was wholly ignorant of his danger until almost upon the tracks, and that he then became panicky.

There is no possible protection against this sort of mishap, except the protection that comes from alertness on the part of the driver. An underpass at Orangethorpe certainly would have saved this particular driver, but all crossings cannot be so protected, and the driver who would crash at Orangethorpe would be likely to expose himself to disaster at some other point.

This is but a matter of cold fact that must be regarded in any effort to cut down on the number and seriousness of such mishaps. The construction engineer and the taxpayer have gone a long way to make crossings safer, but the individual motorist has not kept pace.

F. D. R. PLANS EXPERT ON AVIATION

Considering Step for a Better Regulation of Plane Travel

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt may appoint an aviation expert to the interstate commerce commission in line with his plans for governmental reorganization. Associates said today he was considering that step, since regulation of air transport may be transferred to the commission from the postoffice and air commerce bureau.

Plan Air Regulation

The terms of Commissioners Joseph B. Eastman and Hugh M. Tate have expired, but they continue in office until successors are named.

The commerce department went ahead with air regulation plans, meanwhile, with officials hinting that reorganization of the air bureau might follow the safety conference just opening.

Tentative plans called for expanded action in technical aircraft development. An entirely new section may be created for this work.

Seek Research Funds

Efforts will be continued to procure substantially increased appropriations for the bureau, to broaden research.

The conference discussed methods of eliminating rain and snow static from radio reception. Direction finders and "homing" devices for airplanes also were listed for consideration. The five recent air crashes which claimed 28 lives will be studied Saturday.

Suspend Chief Who Refused Literacy Test

MONTVILLE, N. J. (AP)—There is bitterness abroad in Montville today, for the township has lost its police chief, Russell Hilbert, at least temporarily.

The township committee voted last night to suspend him for insubordination because he refused to take a literacy test. Hilbert's friends, however, prevented the committee from taking this action, asserted Hilbert could "read the Bible backward and forward and write the whole Congressional Record."

About 175 of the township's 2467 residents crowded into the township hall for the committee meeting.

Hilbert directed street traffic throughout the meeting and merely commented: "I guess I'll go to Florida for a little vacation. I think I need one."

Friends took up a collection to pay his travel expenses. The insubordination charge will be tried by the committee at a public hearing Feb. 17.

Last Robert Lee Officer Called

MATHEWS, Va. (AP)—The Rev. Giles Buckner Cooke, 98, last surviving officer of Gen. Robert E. Lee's staff at the surrender of the Confederate army at Appomattox courthouse in 1865, died yesterday.

Major Cooke participated in numerous major engagements in the Civil war and was wounded at Sayler's creek. Fulfilling a vow taken during the war, he entered the ministry after peace was restored.

He is survived by his widow and three children all of whom live in Virginia.

Countess Drops Annulment Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Countess Covadonga, former Edelmira Campedro, of Havana, Cuba, has dropped her attack in supreme court on an annulment suit filed by her husband, the former crown prince of Spain.

The former prince, now known as Count Covadonga, renounced his claim to the throne to marry the Cuban commoner. She is receiving $250 a month temporary alimony from the count.

Jap Industrialists Will Visit U. S.

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese economic federation has decided tentatively to send an economic mission to the United States, the newspaper Asahi reported.

The delegates, it said, would return the visit made by a group of United States industrialists, including W. Cameron Forbes, former United States ambassador to Japan, to Tokyo several years ago.

Organist Cousin Of S. A. Man Dies

Chester A. Crosby, of 821 North Broadway, has received word of the death of his cousin, Dr. W. C. Carl of New York City, who had been recognized for many years as the greatest organist in the country. For 47 years, Dr. Carl was organist of the First Presbyterian church on Fifth avenue in New York City. He had studied in Paris, and received the French Legion of Honor in 1924.

Floods may come and floods may go but nothing may interfere with the bath, three-year-old Vernon Eugene Magee learned. His tears mingle with soapy water as his mother, Mrs. Z. K. ## Anti-Religious Drive Is Pushed in Spain

AVILA, Spain. (AP)—Socialist militiamen who deserted to Gen. Francisco Franco's insurgent ranks are reported to have divulged an anti-religious drive by Communists among the government forces.

The prisoners, most of whom carried full arms and equipment, said they requested front line service in order to cross the lines to the Fascist side at the first opportunity. They exhibited pamphlets which, they said, condemned religion as a "dangerous drug" for the intellect. They said the booklets were distributed by Communists.

Both Spanish and Russian Communists, the deserters said, presided at anti-religious meetings in barracks and camps behind the Madrid front lines. They declared militiamen were compelled to attend the sessions at times when rain and mud reduced the siege front warfare to light artillery duels and skirmishes.

They told the Fascist officers the campaign was greeted by widespread secret opposition among resentful militiamen.

G. O. P. RAPS TRADE PACT PROGRAM

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Culin (R., N. Y.) accused Secretary Hull and Asst. Sec. Francis B. Sayre of the state department yesterday of having "a complete contempt for congress."

While Sayre smiled down from one of the galleries, the New Yorker made the charge in the midst of house debate on a resolution to extend the reciprocal trade agreements act.

Culin spoke after administration stalwarts had praised the measure as a boon to recovery and peace. They urged congress to enact to extend the President's power to negotiate trade treaties.

Calls Hull Dreamer
When Hull gets into the realms of tariff and international trade agreements, Culin asserted, "he becomes a mystic and a dreamer." He called Sayre, who has handled the mechanics of the trade pacts, an internationalist to whose mind "any treaty is a good one, provided the other country is happy."

Representative Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking Republican on the ways and means committee, told the house the trade pacts program, "as administered by the state department internationalists," was not in the people's interest.

Treadway's Blast
"It permits the lowering of our tariffs without reference to domestic production costs," he said, "and thereby jeopardizes all American agriculture, labor and industry; it undermines the American wage level, which is by far the highest in the world; and it threatens our American standard of living."

Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of the ways and means committee opened debate on the measure by saying the trade program had helped both American business and the cause of world peace. The extension resolution simply would continue the act three years from June 12, its expiration date.

Coughlin to Ban Political Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin, "radio priest," said his broadcasts will not be political henceforth, and announced a plan for three nation-wide programs every Sunday.

Father Coughlin said, "I am seeking to make a political network program of another local broadcast, our children's hour, in the afternoon. The children's broadcast is really humorous."

He said the program was an extemporaneous discussion of social and religious problems by school children.

F. R. DEBATES NAMES FOR WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt, with two new battleships to name, is considering the claims of 33 states not represented in the navy's battle line.

His decision must be made before keels are laid in June for the two new $50,000,000 steam-driven dreadnaughts.

Five Seek Honor

Iowa, Missouri, Rhode Island, South Carolina and Virginia have asked to be honored. Washington is preparing a petition.

Many persons have unofficially nominated Maine and Vermont, both jokingly because those states alone voted against Roosevelt last fall and seriously because of their rich naval background.

Some congressmen are between two fires. After the Iowa legislature sought to have a ship for that state, Iowans in congress received protests from peace-minded women against giving the proud name of Iowa to a craft of war.

Four Never Used

Because smaller craft were formerly named for states, every state has had at least one name-sake, but no dreadnaught ever took to water under the name of Montana, North Carolina, South Dakota or Washington.

The 15 battleships now afloat are the Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Maryland, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas and Utah.

Navy Air Plan Is Defended

NEW YORK. (AP)—The airplane is as much an integral part of the navy today as battleships, cruisers, destroyers or submarines, Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics, told 150 leaders of the aviation industry at a luncheon of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America yesterday.

"Aviation today is on the threshold of revolutionizing the world's transportation system and may completely change the science of war," the admiral said. "Our naval aviation has become our first line defense, and a service unequaled among other navies."

The present program, he said, calls for 1910 airplanes by 1942, and of this number, 1705 will be available by the end of the year.

Seek Ouster of Blind Home Head

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Ouster of Superintendent Joseph Kelly of the state industrial home for the adult blind at Oakland is predicted by Mrs. Edward W. Gillis, institutional relations chairman of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

She told the federation's state executive board at its meeting here that the state personnel board is expected to take action on the Kelly case this month.

The federation began an investigation of the industrial home's management a year ago and filed a brief on Kelly's conduct with the personnel board last November.

Rumor Laurel and Wife Reconciled

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Advised that comedian Stanley Laurel and his wife, Virginia Ruth, were bound for New York on a second honeymoon, Roger Marchetti, her attorney, said today she awaited word from her on whether she wanted the interlocutory decree of divorce granted last December set aside.

They were married in Arizona two years ago. Marchetti said servants of Mrs. Laurel said she and the comedian had become reconciled and left either by train or automobile for New York.

Value Estate of Serge Mdivani

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The late Prince Serge Mdivani's estate is currently valued at $67,590 in a probate court petition on file today by a bankruptcy trustee for Insull, Son and company of London, England.

The petition asked reduction or termination of the $1500 a month allowance of Princess Mdivani, the former Louise Astor van Allen of New York. A suit for $65,888 has been filed by the company against the estate in connection with stock purchase.

Petition Sunday Dancing in L. A.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A petition containing 60,788 signatures today asked the city council to legalize Sunday dancing in Los Angeles.

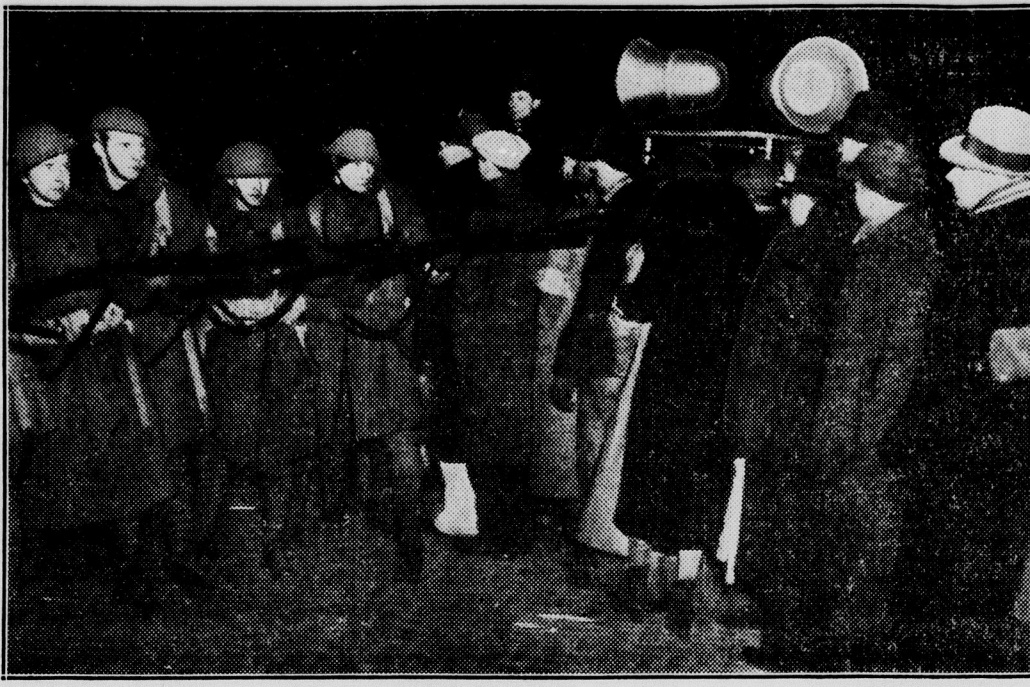

If 51,529 or more of the signatures are found valid, the council must comply by adopting an ordinance or submit the dance question at the next city election.

The California Amusement Men's association sponsored the petition.

AIRPLANE STOWAWAY

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Billie Davis, 23, photographers' model, expired today who she stowed away at Los Angeles yesterday aboard a San Francisco-bound (United) air liner. She said she wanted to be sure and be here in time to attend the San Francisco Art association parli—a hi-jinks and ball—tonight.

Line of Steel Holds Back Pickets

Michigan national guardsmen encircled this group of union pickets in front of a Chevrolet plant in Flint, Mich., after strike disorders had brought troops to the zone for the first time. The guardsmen, armed with rifles and bayonets, later permitted the pickets to remain in the area. (Associated Press Photo)

Pests May Cause This Bob Taylor to Change Name

NEW YORK. (AP)—Things have come to such a pass, what with autograph seekers, movie fan letters and lovelorn ladies who want to meet him, that Robert Taylor—the real Robert Taylor of Pittsburgh—is thinking of changing his name, he said today.

The one he is considering (not in real seriousness, of course, for his own goes back through five generations to Spangler Arlington Bough.)

In case you don't know, that's the real name of the movie Robert Taylor.

The real Robert Taylor (of Pittsburgh) is here with his bride. He has been pestered, he said today, for a year.

Lincoln Letter Bargains to End

NEW YORK. (AP)—"Bargain days" in "original" Lincoln letters are over, police believed, with the arrest of Martin Connelly, 50, charged with selling forged autographs of "The Great Emancipator."

Connelly, fingerprint records showed, is a veteran of nine arrests and seven convictions for grand larceny and forgery. He is charged with selling a fraudulent Lincoln letter to Herman Herst, stamp and autograph dealer, for $7.50.

Connelly insisted that he believed the letters were genuine. He said he found them in an abandoned house.

Seek More Naval Drydock Funds

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Additional funds are sought from congress to enable the navy to build two floating drydocks destined for use in the Pacific.

Increased building costs made bids for a 1016-foot and 446-foot drydocks exceed original appropriations, Rear Admiral Norman H. Smith, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, indicated.

The big structure will cost $5,000,000 more than the $10,000,000 set aside for its construction. Four bids for the smaller drydock ranged from $1,182,000 to $1,670,000. Congress set aside only $750,000 for this purpose.

Construction in U. S. Increasing

NEW YORK. (AP)—Engineering construction awards in the United States for the week ended Tuesday totaled $41,451,000 compared with $50,036,000 a year ago, the "Engineering News-Record" reported today.

Of the latest total, private awards were $13,860,000 against $15,107,000 in the like 1936 week. Public construction amounted to $27,591,000 of which federal was $4,723,000 and state and municipal $22,868,000, against $14,257,000 private, $35,779,000 public, $6,223,000 federal and $29,556,000 state and municipal a year ago.

Equality Given Spanish Women

VALENCIA, Spain. (AP)—The Spanish government established the civic status of women on a basis of absolute equality with men by decree yesterday, abolishing "the archaic privileges" of the husband.

The decree was promulgated by the anarchist minister of justice, Garcia Oliver.

The decree made the rights retroactive to December, 1931, date of the constitution.

Young Lardner Will Wed Soon

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Ring Lardner, jr., screen writer and son of the late humorist, and Silvia Schulman announced they will be married in about three weeks.

Miss Schulman, a native of New York City, is secretary to David O. Selznick, film producer.

Lardner met Miss Schulman when he came to Hollywood from New York more than a year ago.

REORGANIZATION ASKED

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—The reorganization plan of the Baldwin Locomotive Works under section 77B of the bankruptcy act was approved yesterday by Federal Judge Oliver B. Dickinson.

Paroles for 62 Convicts Denied

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—The state board of prison terms and paroles, meeting yesterday at Folsom prison, considered 95 cases and denied 62 applications, three of them having been made by men serving life sentences. Three future date paroles were granted.

The life prisoners, whose applications were denied, were Matthew Deckert, who has been serving a sentence from Los Angeles since 1926; Wong Dowe, received from Colusa county in 1918; and Jeff Lewis, who was sentenced in Fresno county in 1915.

The board refused the application of Robert Hayes, who is serving 45 years for a robbery in San Francisco and two holdups in Los Angeles. He has been in prison since 1928.

Jury Finds Girl Beaten to Death

BEDFORD, Va. (AP)—A coroner's jury has found that six-year-old Jean Seville came to her death Jan. 10 from blows inflicted by Glenn Slaughter, coal truck driver, and his wife, Elva, at their home in Franklin county. The girl's broken body was found Jan. 26 in the mountains.

State police testified at the inquest that Mrs. Slaughter told them her husband beat the child for two hours the night of Jan. 10, striking her from 50 to 100 times with a belt and knocking her to the floor repeatedly.

Lindy and Wife Inspect Rome

ROME. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh devoted another day today to sightseeing in the eternal city, after postponing their take-off for Tripoli on a flight presumably to Cairo, Egypt.

The American flier's orange and black touring monoplane waited while he and Mrs. Lindbergh visited the Vatican museum and the Sistine Chapel in privacy, guarded by Italian police.

Judgment for Carewe Reduced

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Federal Judge William H. Atwell has ordered the $93,000 damage verdict, awarded Edwin Carewe of Hollywood against the city of Dallas for breach of a garbage disposal contract, reduced to $70,000. Judge Atwell said he would set the verdict aside if the reduction were not agreed to and attorneys acquiesced.

Meat Cutters Threaten Strike

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Meat cutters and slaughter house workers today threatened a walkout Monday in 94 business establishments if wage increases restoring the 1929 scales are not granted.

SENTENCE BANDIT

LONG BEACH. (AP)—Garfield Staines, 26, pleaded guilty yesterday to four counts of burglary and one count of assault with a deadly weapon and was sentenced to 20 years to life imprisonment. The charges involved the holdups of two Long Beach and two Los Angeles service stations.

REPRIEVE GRANTED

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—A 30-day reprieve has been granted William Zirbes, sentenced to die today for the murder of Clifford Andrus in North Sacramento in 1935.

MARY PICKFORD UNDER KNIFE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Mary Pickford, pronounced in "excellent condition" after a gallstone operation, will be a hospital patient for two weeks, Dr. Verne Hunt said today.

The film celebrity underwent surgery last Tuesday. Wednesday it was reported she was convalescing from an influenza attack.

Dr. Hunt said Miss Pickford had experienced several illnesses because of the gallstones before it was decided to operate.

800 BACK TO WORK

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Eight hundred men are expected to return to work Monday on the Mono basin tunnel of the Los Angeles aqueduct under terms of a settlement which meets strikers' demands.

FRANCE PROTECTS GOLD

PARIS. (AP)—The Bank of France has transferred 3,000,000 francs (approximately $148,880,000) of its gold reserve to the French foreign exchange stabilization fund, the bank's statement for the week ended Jan. 29 disclosed.

Ohio river flood victims when a flood marooned them in Dry Creek valley near here. Hip-booted husbands rescued them.

Second Townsend Tester Is Off State Pension List

CHELAN, Wash. (AP)—The first "fan" letter to Mrs. Retta Freeman, 68, Chelan's second Townsend test spender, brought her in touch today with a sister from whom she hadn't heard in five years.

Mrs. Grace Radley of Brule, Neb., wrote: "I'm glad you got the money. Oh, how we could use it here!" Mrs. Freeman learned the $200 she received from Chelan Townsend experiment sponsors to test the revenue raising power of 2 per cent transactions tax on "prosperity" checks, would cost her a $17.50 monthly state old age pension for six months. State law prohibits pension payments to persons with other income.

But the test sponsors fixed it so Mrs. Freeman could buy credit in advance for groceries and meats for the six months of the state pension loss, and she was happy again.

She had $104.54 left in "prosperity" checks after $46.11 spending spree yesterday. She bought "the first new blankets I've had in five years," towels, clothing and darning cotton.

Then she spent $5.38 on food for a destitute family of 13. She previously had contributed to the Red Cross.

The transactions tax "kitty" today held less than $4.

King Receives Ambassadors

LONDON. (AP)—Ambassadors and ministers to the Court of St. James presented their credentials yesterday to Britain's new ruler, King George VI.

Ray Atherton, charge d'affaires, represented United States Ambassador Robert W. Bingham, who is on a brief visit to his home in Louisville.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden attended the king, who wore the full dress uniform of an admiral of the fleet.

U. S. Will Start L. A. Work Soon

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Mayor Frank L. Shaw has received word from Senator McAdoo in Washington that work will start shortly on the new federal building for Los Angeles. Originally $6,000,000 was appropriated for the 16-story structure, and Senator McAdoo advised the mayor an extra appropriation of $1,030,000 has been made to provide for necessary equipment.

The new building will occupy the site of the present postoffice, autopsy determined.

WEATHER MAN THREATENED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Federal agents were on the lookout today for someone in Los Angeles who takes the weather too seriously.

L. H. Daingerfield, government meteorologist here, received a death threat through the mails because he forecast rain and then it didn't.

The note read: "You get a high salary for predicting the weather. You said it was going to rain and it didn't. Well, I'm sick and tired of it, and if you make any more mistakes, your life won't be worth a nickel. I'm coming down there and kill you and we'll get a weather man who knows enough to come in out of the rain."

BRIBERY HEARING

MONTEREY. (AP)—Eight new witnesses were subpoenaed to appear at a hearing of an assembly subcommittee investigating rumors of a $10,000 bribery plot asserted by engineers by sardine canners wishing increased reduction allotments.

SOVIET CHIEF DIES

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Boris Gabriilovich, 31, Soviet aeronautical commissioner, died of hardening of the arteries shortly after his arrival here Wednesday, an autopsy determined.

MEET JAMES W. RYAN, RED AND WHITE GROCER

When a man retains his business location for 15 years the neighborhood, the community and his friends become so familiar with the location that it becomes just natural to drift his way. And when that same man for 15 years maintains a spirit of kindness and friendliness it becomes a place where you just naturally want to go. That is the kind of a reputation James W. Ryan has established for his grocery, meat and vegetable store at 1736 West Fifth street.

Ryan's affiliation with the Red and White organization dates from the charter member days. It is a 100 per cent Red and White store. His consistency with this organization is the same as his business dealings with his customers. Always 100 per cent efficient. Ryan could easily be classified as a pioneer in the grocery business on account of his continuous location. He partakes personally of the pioneer spirit in that he is so mindful of customer courtesy.

The Ryan food market includes all three departments which make food shopping easy and convenient. The merchandise is up-to-the-minute, selected from the Red and White list of high grade goods, proven, dependable and satisfactory. You make your selections and if you want the goods delivered a fast delivery service will put the merchandise in your kitchen. Groceries, meats and vegetables, the three departments which furnish a complete household culinary necessities, can all be obtained in this store of one-stop service.

In the management of the store Mr. Ryan is ably assisted by his sister, Miss Julia Ryan, and Miss Maud Halloway.

Mr. Ryan has an unselfish interest in the children. They are as fond of him as he is of them. This mutual bond of sympathy affords him a lot of pleasure, and if you think the "kids" do not get a thrill out of their visits to the store you do not know your "kiddies."

Mr. Ryan is not only courteous but he is conscientious. He wants you to be satisfied with your purchases. He or his clerks will give their personal attention and assistance to help you make your selections.

If you have not visited the Ryan store during the 15 years which it has been in operation it is about time to make "Jim's" acquaintance. You will be welcome whether you are a customer or a visitor.

BEACH CAMERA PRIZES TOLD

LAGUNA BEACH. — Orange county photographers came in for a share of prizes and display space at the Far-Western Inter-club salon of photography now on exhibit for a month at the Laguna Beach Art gallery.

Comprising the exhibit is a group of 173 prints chosen from 1189 submitted to the judges for the original showing at Palo Alto last month. The exhibit was hung in the lower gallery by Ted Cook. First prize in the portrait division of the class awards went to Cook, president of the Orange County Camera club, for his picture "Johanna," a portrait of his daughter. Cook also is represented in the exhibit with a print of two horses entitled "Sister Act" for which he received first prize in the special award class.

Other Orange county representatives are G. H. Ethington with "Breaking Wave" and Lehnhart with "Mary Lou."

ANTI-PICKETING LAW APPROVED

LAGUNA BEACH. — Neither disturbed by the stormy session that rocked the council chamber, nor convinced by the overwhelming opposition presented against the anti-picketing ordinance, the Laguna city council Wednesday night passed the measure as recommended by the grand jury.

Councilmen Cummings and Bainbridge voted against the ordinance, with Councilmen Jester, Heisler and Mayor Mallow backing it.

Bob Bowen, secretary of the Carpenters' local union, spoke against the measure and presented his union's unanimous opposition to it.

Ward Sutton, member of the Typographical union, also spoke opposing the measure.

American Legion representatives visited the council and their commander, Gaylord Fanning, presented the second-prize engraved clock won at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses.

CHURCH TOPICS ANNOUNCED

WINTERSBURG. — The Rev. Joseph H. Thompson, pastor of the Community Methodist church, will speak on "Questing Ideals" for his Sunday morning service.

A musical program will be featured at the evening service, which will include a piano prelude by Loraine Taylor and several numbers by the church orchestra, directed by William Leedke. The pastor will discuss "Where Are You Going?" and will be assisted in his talk by members of the Lindeberg class and the class leader, Laddie Letson.

Monday afternoon the Rev. and Mrs. Thompson will entertain the members of the Orange County Methodist Fellowship and their wives. At the close of the afternoon the visitors will be the guests of the Ladies' Aid society at a supper to be served in the social hall of the church.

Founder's Tea Is P-T. A. Feature

ORANGE. — A Founders' day tea was given at the home of Mrs. R. E. Gross Wednesday afternoon, sponsored by the Orange Community Council, P-T. A. Guests of honor were past presidents of the council, Mrs. Oliver Wickersheim is the present leader.

A program of musical numbers was given by pupils of Miss Phyllis Lucy Keyes, high school music teacher. Ruth Snyder, Sue Conley and Eleanor Wacker played piano solos, while Ethel Armstrong, Marjorie Lawson and Janet Sutherland sang, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret O'Leary. The three past presidents present, Mrs. U. G. Straw, Mrs. Glenn Rock and Mrs. Fay Erwin, were given corsages.

The program was planned by Mrs. Earl Wood and Mrs. R. E. Gross.

Beach Basketball League Planned

LAGUNA BEACH. — Fair athletes go into action once again at Laguna with formation this week of a girls' basketball league to have weekly games at the high school gymnasium.

Sponsors are being selected for the teams with schedules and line-ups to be announced shortly.

RECOVER FROM ILLNESS

CROPS TO BE FORECAST BY SOIL

Experts Now Can Predict Production by Peek Under Ground

CHICAGO, (AP)—Crop experts will peek beneath the soil to forecast grain production this year—a method born of recent droughts. Bernard W. Snow, former assistant secretary of agriculture, and R. I. Mansfield, both associated with a Chicago grain house, disclosed today the crop forecast method which they said would be used on a large scale this year.

Soil Development
Snow, the dean of Chicago crop authorities, said the method resulted from three years' experimentation and involved detailed analysis of rainfall records and the systematic application of this knowledge of subsoil moisture conditions in predicting crop output. It stresses the importance of subsoil moisture.

Mansfield called the method "the first approach toward scientific estimates of a crop in advance of its maturity."

In effect, said Snow, it will give the crop inspector and student a view of what is going on in the plant beneath the soil surface, whereas heretofore crop inspection has dealt largely with conditions visible above the ground.

1936 Predictions
Snow and other Chicago observers repeatedly have "called" crop developments weeks before they became apparent to laymen. They predicted last year's serious grain losses during the drought.

"Knowledge of probable crop production, well in advance of harvest," Snow said, "is important not only to agriculture but to all lines of business."

His latest moisture statistics, which undoubtedly will be used to judge progress of the winter wheat crop now growing in the Southwest, indicate only limited subsoil moisture in many sections.

SUBSIDIZATION HIT BY YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Dr. James Rowland Angell, president of Yale, spoke out today against subsidization of athletes with the statement that no Yale student could expect recognition of any kind "merely because he is an athlete."

The Yale head asserted that he is "obliged to believe that the practice of recruiting high school athletes for college teams and of paying college players for their services" are "extremely common and extremely pernicious."

He expressed regret that intercollegiate sports "should be shadowed by shabby relations," adding:

"The frank defense of subsidizing athletes now so frequently heard, even by college representatives, reflects either a counsel of despair, or a divergence of ideals and standards so fundamental that general agreement is not to be hoped for."

Former Baseball Pilot Fatally Injured By Car

OAKLAND, (AP)—Victim of an automobile accident, Harry Wolverton, 64, former big league baseball player and manager of several minor league clubs, died here.

He was struck dead on a downtown street night. Police said he was struck down by an automobile driven by A. B. Ury of San Leandro, Calif., as he stepped from a curb in a driving rain. Ury was not held.

Wolverton managed the New York Yankees in 1912. He piloted the Pacific coast league Oakland Oaks in 1911, Sacramento in 1914, the San Francisco Seals from 1915 to 1917, and Seattle in 1923. He dropped out of baseball in 1924.

Santa Anita Plans Benefit Race for Flood Relief Fund

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Racing Secretary Webb Everett of Santa Anita park began work today drawing up conditions for an attractive racing program for next Monday when the track stages a benefit for flood relief.

Permission to hold the extra day of racing, in which all net receipts from admissions, commissions on pari-mutuel wagering and concessions will be turned over to the national Red Cross flood relief committee, was granted by the California horse racing board.

Brubaker Favored Over Frenchman

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Young Phil Brubaker of Dinuba, Calif., will climb through the ropes a slight favorite here tonight to defeat big Andre Lenglet, French heavyweight, in a 10-round rematch.

The two battled to a draw here last October in a bout which saw Brubaker, the favorite, knocked off his feet.

Radio Cowboy at Empire

OZARK SLIM

Ozark Slim, popular radio cowboy, was putting songs in the hearts of Orange county shoppers at the Empire market here today. Slim, who plays the harp and guitar and also sings, has long been a favorite on KXN.

The cowboy musician also will be at the Empire market all day tomorrow to sing and play request numbers. His specialty is mountain music.

BLACK EYE IS MYSTERY 'Monty' Has Headache, Too

"Monty" Montgomery of Newport Beach has a black eye and a headache today to remind him he celebrated something last night. He's pretty sure where he got the headache, but the black eye is a mystery.

Montgomery was arrested by Santa Ana police at 2:55 a. m. today, on drunk charges. He had a bad cut over his eye.

He told police he had been standing in front of a friend's house at 1101 East Oak street, when somebody hit him, for no apparent reason.

Police contacted the friend, who said he didn't have any idea who hit Montgomery. Mrs. Montgomery, who was with him, says she didn't know anyone hit him, either. But somebody did. Montgomery has a black eye today to prove it.

TINY NATION SEEKS TO AID ECONOMIC ILLS

VADUZ, Liechtenstein. (AP)—Dr. Joseph Hoop, kept busy by Nazis and his neighbors' currency, has set out to bandage the economic wounds of 65 mile square Liechtenstein.

The administrator of this tiny principality nestled between Austria and Switzerland decided upon:

1. Subsidization of those couples who want to be married, if they are willing to buy household goods in Liechtenstein. (Some experts think there might be as many as 50 weddings in 1937 with the prospect of financial inducement.)

2. A decree ordering all school children to buy and wear school uniforms—also at home—in the next 12 months.

3. Public works, mostly the building of dams.

The government party, "Leichtenstein Burgerpartei" believes it still has a sufficient majority to curb "excesses" by Nazi, Fascist and Communist minorities.

But Nazis still steal out by night and paint big swastikas on the hilly main road, on which one can walk from frontier to frontier in half a day.

The economic situation, furthermore, has been complicated by currency devaluation in Switzerland and Italy. That hurt trade and farm exports.

PRESIDENT'S 'ADVISORS' PASS ON

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The White house has announced the "passing" of the "President's close advisors."

A statement said:

"The President announced the death of the 'official spokesman' in March, 1933. He now announces the passing of the so-called authoritative spokesmen, those who write as 'one of the President's close advisors.'"

The President's aides said the statement spoke for itself and would not say against whom it was directed.

When the President entered the White House, he discontinued the practice followed by President Coolidge and part of the time by President Hoover of making statements through a non-existent spokesman and not allowing quotations either direct or in paraphrase.

"Most of the members seemed to feel," Martin said, "that perhaps the method should be a law requiring a 6 to 3 or 7 to 2 vote of the supreme court to declare an act of congress unconstitutional."

Most of those present expressed the opinion it would take too long to obtain a constitutional change.

The matter is expected to come before the Santa Ana chamber of commerce directors at their next meeting, according to Secretary Howard I. Wood.

Wood estimated that 2000 Orange county persons have interests in mines or claims, or back prospectors. There also is considerable interest in amateur prospecting at the present time.

N. H. Hilton, local assayer and chemist, brought the matter to the attention of the chamber of commerce here. Wood wrote a letter to the Los Angeles chamber of commerce for further information, and received a letter back from Leslie C. Mott, secretary of the mining committee.

Mott said a newly proposed law would practically do away with prospecting, as no one would be so fool-hardy as to waste time and money to find a mining prospect and then have to obtain a lease from the government for a few years, and then become an open bidder to retain the claim.

Urging arbitration as the only sensible method of settling labor disputes, Dr. Paul A. Dodd, federal arbitrator for the port of Los Angeles, addressed a county forum audience at the Garden Grove High school last night, on the subject, "Maritime and Citrus Strike Situations."

Dr. Glenn Carlson, University of Redlands sociology instructor, spoke last night at Fullerton High school, before another forum group. His topic was "This Business of Relief." He characterized relief as "meeting the problem of redistribution of purchasing power, when other means have failed."

Dr. Dodd spoke to students of Fullerton Junior college yesterday morning, discussing strikes on the Pacific coast and in Orange county.

Funeral services for Mrs. Katie A. Besser, who died Feb. 1, were attended in a body this morning by the auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. A delegation headed by Mrs. Irene Stewart and Mrs. Annie Sullivan, including Mrs. Esther Hendrickson, Mrs. Effie Holly, Mrs. Anna McCleary, Mrs. Ruth O'Malley and Mrs. Phoebe Hyde, performed the color ceremony.

Rev. W. J. Hatter conducted the services at the Episcopal Church of the Messiah. Survivors include her husband, William Besser, a son, Frank Besser, and two daughters, Minnie Besser, who is a past president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. W. R. Fleming, of Phoenix, Ariz.

Bad check charges today sent two men to the county jail, and a third pleaded guilty before Superior Judge James L. Allen on a charge of issuing fraudulent checks.

Denied probation, Harry A. Straw was sentenced to one year in jail by Judge Allen.

Louie Franco, who had pleaded guilty in justice court on a check charge, was sentenced to six months in jail.

Judge Allen granted a probation hearing for Feb. 19 when George U. Carter pleaded guilty to issuing a fraudulent check and applied for probation.

DIRECTOR NAMED
CHICAGO, (AP)—The Rev. Carl C. Seitter of Los Angeles is the new director of institutes of the national board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was named at the annual meeting yesterday.

Starving Woman's Fortune Kept in Cans Still Grows
SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The fortune in currency found in hidden cans and shoeboxes in the home of Mrs. Anna Miller mounted above $50,000 today while the self-starved widow was cared for in a hospital psychopathic ward.

Mrs. Miller, emaciated and weak, said she was 54. Old acquaintances said she probably was 75.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A group of about 25 representatives agreed informally yesterday to assure President Roosevelt of their cooperation with possible plans to alter the power of the supreme court.

A sub-committee of five with Representative Martin (D., Colo.) as chairman, was named to confer with the President. Other members appointed were Teigan (P-I, Minn.), Hill (D., Wash.), Lewis (D., Md.) and Ramsay (D., W. Va.).

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—Heavy selling broke over the stock market today, following President Roosevelt's recommendation to congress for an increase in membership of the supreme court, and leading issues toppled 1 to 5 points. The hour tape was occasionally five minutes behind. The volume dwindled after the initial relapse when mild support appeared. Offerings expanded again in the final hour, but declines were once more reduced before the close. Prices follow.

TEMPERANCE RALLY HERE FEB. 12

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes Will Address Meeting
in M. E. Church

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, and resident bishop at Washington, D. C., is to be the principal speaker at a special temperance rally service to be held at the First Methodist church on Friday evening, Feb. 12.

The meeting is being arranged by the Rev. G. A. Warner, sr., pastor of the church. All church groups, the W.C.T.U., and other organizations are expected to attend.

Flippant Attitude
 In a recent interview Bishop Hughes declared that "We have simply got to stop the present flippant attitude toward a serious social situation. We must face seriously and soberly the appalling conditions now before us, brought about by repeal."

Bishop Hughes is well known throughout Methodism, having held important pastorates in numerous states, and later becoming presiding bishop of the New England area, Methodist Episcopal church. He was, for five years, president of DePauw university, and is still a trustee of that institution.

Popular Speaker
 Throughout the country Bishop Hughes is acknowledged to be an outstanding preacher and a popular lecturer and speaker. As senior bishop of his denomination he travels throughout the country and is conversant with conditions in all sections. He has been an interested student of social conditions.

At one time he was president of the Anti-Saloon league in Massachusetts, and then in Illinois; and is now president of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Town of Singing Mouse Also Has Musical Cat Now

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Illinois, home of Minnie, the singing mouse, now comes up with "Tiger," the musical cat.

Martha Leigh Thatcher, high school student, says her gray striped cat heads for the piano as soon as he gets in the house, stands on his hind legs and strikes the keys with the front paws, sometimes improvising by racing up and down the key board.

Children's Books Now Streamlined

HOUSTON, Texas. (AP)—The trend in literature for and by children has shifted from the lullaby love and fairy tempo to streamlined realism.

A comparative exhibit of juvenile books at the Houston library emphasized the change in subject matter.

Today's titles included "Youth Looks at Life" and "Baldy, the Story of an Eagle."

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

It will be remembered that Edward J. Margett, former California Townsend director, campaigned during the fall election in behalf of the amendment which proposed placing a tax on chain stores.

This attitude of the state director was consistent with the California Townsendites. They presumed he was reflecting the desires of Dr. Frances E. Townsend, and so the Townsendites.

large numbers gave help of their votes to defeat the amendment. But hear what Dr. Townsend has to say about this attitude of Margett. I quote from his recently released message to the press:

"I had confidence in Mr. Margett. I put him in charge as state manager for California. From the outset he was continually involved in personal conflict with a large portion of the membership of the organization as well as those in charge of national headquarters. He spent a large part of his time and energy in the late campaign contrary to my wishes—working with and for the chain-store organizations to defeat a state constitutional amendment sponsored by independent California merchants, thousands of whom are members of Townsend clubs."

"Tens of thousands of dollars were spent by the chain store people, and because of Mr. Margett's activities for them, the Townsend organization was involved in a fight which reacted against the Townsend candidates for congress. You know Mr. Margett's part in that fight and how he used the columns of the California edition of the Townsend National Weekly to influence the Townsend people in California to support the chain store organizations."

"I wrote a full page announcement, asking California Townsendites to ignore and take no part in this fight. This statement I sent to Los Angeles to be published in our paper. The then manager of the Townsend National Weekly informed me that Mr. Margett would not allow its publication. This is one of the reasons why I changed the management of the paper—because I could not get my own statements printed in it."

"Mr. Margett may have been a good business man when he joined hands with the chain stores and disregarded his wishes. The chain store organizations employed thousands of people in California to help them in their fight to defeat the program of the independent merchants. I am not saying that Mr. Margett was paid for what he did against my wishes for the chain store people. He will have to explain why he was so interested in their fight and why he used the facilities and the Townsend mailing lists of the California state office in behalf of the chain stores."

Dr. Townsend continues his statement, giving reasons why Mr. Margett was not put in charge of the national movement. He says: "Mr. Margett helped me financially and otherwise in the early days of the Townsend movement. I overlooked his mistakes—if mistakes they were—and wanted to continue his services. But there are times when patience ceases to be a virtue."

"When I decided to move the Townsend National Weekly to Chicago I put Mr. Margett in charge of the packing and moving. Because I had confidence in him, I gave him $1,000 for expenses. To date I have had no accounting of this $1,000. He did not use it for the purpose for which I gave it—if he used it at all. I was criticized by the auditors in Chicago for this transaction and this $1,000 has now been charged to my personal account. I can ill afford to make good this amount from my salary."

"The Chicago office of the Townsend National Weekly was compelled to pay all expenses of moving the Los Angeles office records and equipment to Chicago."

Dr. Townsend then recites a number of instances in which Margett displayed an alleged lack of good business judgment which the writer will not attempt to quote because of their length. He will give only a few extracts. Here is one:

"Mr. Margett shipped heavy metal files which were not important by fast express instead of by freight. Important records needed in Chicago were sent by freight and other useless records were sent by air express. One express bill covering only a small part of the office equipment shipped to Chicago amounted to over $250 alone. Hundreds of dollars were thus wasted because of lack of business judgment. I mention this as Mr. Margett accuses me of lacking it."

(To Be Continued Tomorrow)

Bridge Toll Five Cents for Bikes

SAUSALITO. (AP)—A boom in bicycle sales was predicted today when it was learned cyclists may cross the Golden Gate bridge for five cents, the same price charged pedestrians.

FLOODS, FREEZES AND STRIKES

Floods, freezes, and labor difficulties usually have vast economic effects. It seems certain to us that the present major disturbances in the production and distribution of merchandise MUST bring about extensive raises in food prices. Already, notices have been received from some manufacturers and canners that reorders of foodstuffs will be at new higher levels of cost. But Safeway has well stocked warehouses; acres of floor space filled with foods of all kinds. Thousands of dollars worth of foods are on hand that were bought at reasonable prices. Safeway's selling prices on these goods are being held down as long as possible. But even our quantities are limited. Retail price advances seem inevitable. Our advice, and we believe it to be sound, is to invest in canned foods now. Stock up today at the low prices available in your neighborhood Safeway.

A New Puzzle in Relief

RELIEF agencies in California will face a new problem if refugees from the flooded Mississippi and Ohio valleys flock here in the large numbers expected.

It has been estimated by Los Angeles officials that at least 100,000 flood sufferers will pour into Southern California.

Of these, Orange county will get an undeterminable share—but one which probably would total at least several thousand.

Most of these refugees will be destitute, having lost what little they owned in the high waters.

Let's visualize the picture when they arrive.

First they'll start looking for work. They won't get it, of course. There aren't enough jobs to go around for the present population—much less thousands more.

So in an effort to earn a living, they'll offer to work for less, reducing a wage level which already is too low for comfort.

Those who fail to get jobs will appeal to relief agencies for help.

They can't get it from the county, for a person to receive county aid must have been an independent resident for 3 years.

They can't get it from the state, for the SRA also has residence requirements which they can't meet.

They can't get it from the federal government, for a similar situation prevails there.

And they can't get it from private charity which lacks the means to care for such large numbers.

The only relief opportunity open is to ask the SRA transient department for temporary assistance until they can be shipped back to their home states at federal expense to go on relief back there.

And there you have the picture of the sorry plight of these flood refugees—a picture which California and Orange county soon may view.

California is in no financial position to add these thousands to her relief rolls, even if the law permitted and the people were so minded. Our tax load is too high already.

Nor is there any other state in the union which could properly undertake the job.

The unfortunate situation strongly emphasizes the need for federal relief machinery capable of dealing with the poverty stricken multitudes which roam from state to state in a seemingly vain effort to find steady work and a measure of security.

Film director says there'll never be another "Birth of a Nation." Well—Mrs. Dionne did pretty well.

School Costs in Orange County

AFTER sinking to a low ebb in the years 1932-33 and 1933-34, Orange county's school costs are again showing an increase.

Elementary and high school expenses during the past three years have shown some gain.

However, the costs are not nearly back to the levels prevailing in 1930-31.

The following tabulation has been prepared by the California Taxpayers association:

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS (Including Kindergarten)
Fiscal Year	A.D.A.	Current Expense	Capital Outlay	Bond Interest	TOT.
1930-31	17,793	100.73	28.38	8.23	137.34
1931-32	18,088	99.72	11.79	7.62	119.13
1932-33	17,546	91.69	5.26	7.23	104.18
1933-34	16,870	91.60	3.02	6.79	101.41
1934-35	16,332	89.66	15.70	6.35	111.71
1935-36	16,230	91.91	26.30	5.85	124.06
HIGH SCHOOLS (Including Junior High Schools)
1930-31	6,563	230.01	195.20	20.06	445.27
1931-32	7,045	219.36	33.74	16.78	269.88
1932-33	7,141	176.75	9.54	15.15	201.44
1933-34	7,200	180.02	11.21	13.83	205.06
1934-35	7,549	170.87	48.66	12.58	232.11
1935-36	7,864	172.06	84.13	13.50	269.69

As far as can be seen on the surface, there is no significance to these increases other than to indicate a gradual recovery from the depression.

During the worst of the bad years, the various boards resorted to every feasible plan for holding expenses down, even in some cases to operating the schools with too few teachers and with salaries cut to the bone.

With business conditions improving somewhat, the tendency is to relax on the pressure and to approve necessary betterments in the schools.

The Tax Digest, organ of the California Taxpayers association, points with satisfaction to the general reduction that has been made in bond interest, and expresses a hope that districts will continue to avoid bond issues.

It would seem that this could be done pretty well in most Orange county districts, except, perhaps, for the need of a new junior college plant here.

If Santa Ana citizens vote bonds for this purpose, the level will rise somewhat in this particular area.

In any case, these are interesting figures and worthy of study by parents and property owners.

According to an authority, the roles of man and woman could be, respectively, those of pursuer and pursued; not as is often the case, suer and sued.

Saving the Taxpayer $500

WISDOM of Orange county supervisors in refusing to donate a $500 lobby fee to the State Supervisors association is being clearly shown as reports come in from other counties in the state.

From Santa Barbara, we learn that the county auditor has held up payment of the $500 allotted there on the grounds that it is illegal.

The same situation exists in Ventura county.

Our supervisors have saved themselves a lot of trouble and have shown that they have the interests of the taxpayer at heart by refusing to subscribe to this $500 lobby grab.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Thoughts while strolling: Overheard—"I dislike few people and he is all of them." Nice gesture: Jack Dempsey never smoking a cigar in the presence of children. Jimmy Durante streaking along with the usual unbuttoned overcoat. Wit on roller skates: Gilbert White.

Top imitation of the month: Courtney Ryley Cooper's of a fish. Grover Whalen has the nearest approach to the Hitler mustache hereabouts. Incongruity: Margaret Sings. George Bellows daughter who posed for the famous "Jean" painting. Now a grown-up lady.

Something for the news cameras: Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken in plain gingham. The middle-aged couples who dine at Schrafft's with the man you suspect lives alone next door. When a night club can snare Mistinguette and Sonja Henie the same evening, it's sure fire for picture publicity.

A magazine idea for someone on stooges who have carved careers—Sid Silvers, Patsy Kelly, Benny Baker and several more. No author tops Joseph Hergesheimer in living the country gentleman life. Ward Morehouse and Erskine Gwynne could pass for twins in a dim light.

Rhyme: Lucius Boomer is the Waldorf's head roomer. Dandy names for a pair of goldfish—Nip and Tuck. Rattle of iron swords speech: Floyd Gibbons. Add the theater thrills: When Gallipolis, O. was mentioned right out in "The Easiest Way." And did I give it a cheer!

Harry Silvey, silver haired boulevardier, had his first brush with royalty lunching with a friend at the Ritz the other day. A countess in passing stopped to speak to Silvey's friend and in turn was presented to Silvey. While accepting the introduction an off-eared ring slipped mooring and plopped into Silvey's goblet of water. He reached for and rescued the bauble and hastily wiping his hand on a napkin, beamed: "Pardon my wet cuff, countess!"

Dr. Alfred Adler, the Viennese psychologist who broke from Freud and started a school of his own, was talking about the recognizable earmarks of kindness in people. Once when there were no lodgings to be found in a German town because of conventions, Dr. Adler discovered himself in charge of a young woman who was looking for a room late at night. A strange man—and formidable looking—approached in the lobby of the hotel. He said he knew a single room that could be engaged and offered to escort the lady there. The psychologist thanked the man but declined the proposal but the girl—herself a student of psychology—asked the stranger his profession. "I am a lion tamer," he said. The girl was receptive immediately and went along with him confiding to Dr. Adler that animal trainers are the gentlest people in the world. And the master psychologist agreed. Clyde Beatty, for instance, sobs out loud at injured heroines at the movies.

Mary Roberts Rinehart, the author, has a pocket sized Filipino chauffeur who keeps his imported car as gleaming as his eyes. He has Oriental written all over him and his name is Miguel. So Mrs. Rinehart's sons call him Mac-Gill.

Nocturne: There are silver-gray streaks shimmering in the Hudson in the winter moonlight that give thin beauty to the night. Gilded figures in the long line of parked cars symbolize the glamour that holds them in romantic spell. Riverside in the late evening becomes a lane of lovers from the West. Seventy-second street beginning to Washington bridge and beyond. Oh, yes, and then some intrepid canoeist glides out to ride the glassy swells in wake of a churning side-wheeler.

I get telegrams from Prince Obesky, the Duke of this and the Baron of that to come to the dining rooms where are sponsoring and make myself at home—at eight bucks or so a plate. All very royal and tip-top. And likely to make a bourgeois feel quite a one. Yet somehow I wish they would shuck dining out down to plain skillet vittles and grinning waiters of the old steamboat days. The sort who beamed: "How about another helpin', boss?" That was boardin'.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—If it were not for the fact that tragedy walks with the motor strike, Alfred P. Sloan's secret conference with Madame Secretary Perkins last week could have been billed on Broadway as an uproarious comedy of errors.

Here is the behind-the-scenes story of what happened:

After publicly refusing to confer with Miss Perkins, the General Motors head arrived secretly in Washington at 1 p. m. Friday and went direct to Miss Perkins' personal office. He used his private elevator.

His first act was to launch a bitter and vehement attack on John L. Lewis, leader of the automobile strike. With flushed face, he paced up and down before Madame Secretary, denouncing Lewis through the entire alphabet.

Miss Perkins listened quietly. Finally, as the eruption subsided, she suggested that such an attitude would lead nowhere and proposed a meeting between Lewis and Sloan just to talk things over. After a lengthy discussion Sloan departed, via the private elevator, leaving Miss Perkins with two definite impressions: (1) that the General Motors chief had been convinced of the desirability of meeting Lewis; (2) that he was remaining in Washington for the night.

SECOND NIGHT

Meanwhile newsmen got wind of the big story developing behind Miss Perkins' closed doors and stormed her office. There they obtained no information, but posted watch at her doors. Sloan left Miss Perkins (via the private entrance) at 5 o'clock. At 6 she emerged from her office, met the press, and denied that Sloan had been there. Newsmen refused to accept this statement, and after some sharp questioning, Miss Perkins admitted that she had conferred with the General Motors executive.

Having made this admission, Miss Perkins then issued a cheerful report on developments. She said that Sloan had left to consult with advisers, and that she would meet the reporters again at 10 p. m. to impart further information.

So they immediately wrote the "true in the making" stories, appearing in the early night editions.

THIRD ACT

At 10 p. m. the newsmen were back in Miss Perkins' office. But she was absent. At 10:30 o'clock one of her secretaries announced that there would be no further developments that night.

There was no explanation for this change, but the inside reason was this:

At 9:30 p. m. Miss Perkins received a call from Sloan.

What bit of news has interested you most recently? Abdication of King Edward VIII.

If you were editor of The Journal what one change would you make in the paper? None.

What do you like best in The Journal? Its editorial page.

What one thing would help Santa Ana most? An active industry.

What in your judgment is the most important problem facing the world today? Why? Economic stability of European "have not" countries.

ceived a call from Sloan. This came as a considerable shock. For he discovered that instead of being in Washington, as she had confidently expected, the General Motors president was in New York. He had gone directly from her office to the depot and taken a train.

Still flabbergasted at this news, Miss Perkins was even more shaken when Sloan informed her that after due thought he had decided not to meet Lewis.

This shattering of her high hopes for a solution of the auto strike caused Miss Perkins to burst into tears. She went to bed. About midnight newspaper reporters, on a tip from New York, got wind of the fiasco and began battering at her door for information. Then followed the curtain scene.

Miss Perkins declared that Sloan had called on her at his own request and then had "run out." Confronted with this, Sloan issued an emphatic denial, asserted that he had conferred with Madame Secretary at her invitation.

WHATTA MAN

Senator Bob Reynolds' demonstration of kissing Jean Harlow on the steps of the capitol, with benefit of a large corps of cameramen, evoked the open admiration of his colleagues.

When the North Carolina widower entered the senate dining room shortly thereafter he was greeted with cheers and hails. "Bob," asked one of them when the applause had quieted, "what was it Miss Harlow said to you when you finished that kissing act?"

Reynolds grinned broadly, replied: "She said, 'Senator, you are wasting your time in Washington. You ought to come to Hollywood.'"

FLOOD HISTORY

The first recorded flood on the mighty Mississippi was in the sixteenth century when, after De Soto's death, his men planned to build boats and descend the Father of Waters.

But a terrific flood disrupted their plans. Here is a description of it from the pen of De la Vega, historian of the explorer's voyage: "Then God, our Lord, hindered the work with a mighty flood of the great river, which, at this time, began to come down with an enormous increase of water, which in the beginning overflowed the level ground between the river and the cliffs; then little by little it rose to the top of the cliffs."

"Soon it began to flow over the fields in an immense flood, and as the land was level, without any hills, there was nothing to stop the inundation. The flood was 40 days in reaching its greatest height, which was the 20th of April, and it was a beautiful thing to look upon the sea where there had been fields, for on each side of the river the water extended over 20 leagues of land, and all of this area was navigated by canoes, and nothing was seen but the tops of the tallest trees."

NATIVE SONS?

Only seven of California's 20 representatives in congress were born in California. The others were born in Maryland, New York, Minnesota, Texas, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, Illinois, Alabama and Iowa.

FOUR-YEAR COLLEGE

To the Editor: Permit me to compliment you on your editorial of Jan. 16 entitled "Four-Year College Here Not Likely." It takes some courage for a newspaper to publish facts which oppose a popular, even though misguided, demand for a four-year college in these days of universal clamor for such institutions.

Your Dean D. K. Hammond of your junior college has analyzed the situation in splendid shape, and I feel you have done a real service to the people of Orange county in publishing his ideas.

As you know, there is a movement throughout the state for the development of junior colleges into four-year colleges; based on nothing more than the popular and uninformed demand of chambers of commerce and similar organizations which merely think they will be a good thing for the community, and at the same time would shift the burden of tax from the district to the state at large. Unfortunately the University of California has been forced to take the lead in opposing such a movement, which, as Mr. Hammond points out, is unwise and against the recommendation of every able educator who ever has investigated. For this reason it is most heartening to find a newspaper willing to publish a fact without bias and without prejudice.

You have the thanks of the University of California and should have the gratitude of the entire state for your stand.

HAROLD ELLIS, Manager, U. of C. News Service.

George III of England was receiving one day in the royal quarters and many peers and their ladies were present. One conceited peer who professed the right of appearing before royalty with his hat on suddenly appeared. The king walked up to him and confidentially said: "It is true, my lord, that you may wear your hat in the presence of the king, but it is not usual to wear it in the presence of ladies."

One Man's Opinion

By X REPORTER

One of the finest gentlemen I ever knew was a Mexican named Jose Lopez. He was also one of the worst hombies imaginable in a scummbage.

He was a "detective" on the police force of the American city. That means only that he wore civilian clothes instead of a uniform and carried a short-barreled .45 under his left arm instead of the heavier trappings of the ordinary harnessed cop.

Joe's eyes were a soft, liquid brown, and his smile was ready and genuine when things were normal. But the same eyes were as opaque as a bar of chocolate when he was in a bad mood.

There was no smile—when there was a police report to be done. Strong as a gorilla, he could handle almost any unarmed gang single-handed. If there was gunplay, Joe's short-barreled .45 was quick, accurate and deadly.

I've seen him give more money than any honest cop could afford to the wife or widow of some unfortunate he'd been compelled to jail or worse. He police reporters used to impose on him, borrowing his gold pieces we knew he always carried. Joe was honest and thrifty.

Just north of the boundary line that separates Mexico and the United States.

He was a "detective" on the police force of the American city. That means only that he wore civilian clothes instead of a uniform and carried a short-barreled .45 under his left arm instead of the heavier trappings of the ordinary harnessed cop.

Understand there is an arrangement being made whereby a representative of the federal government is to visit Orange county for the purpose of imparting information that both employers and employees ought to know re: the Social Security Act. The information will tell you how to act and when. My informant says to watch the daily and weekly newspapers for the times and places, as the representative hopes to be able to make several appointments the same day. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

I am still meeting orange growers who insist you won't know the extent of the freeze damage until you get your packing-house returns. It's a cinch you'll get the low-down then.

I have a personal note from a good friend who says: "Ever since the first of the week my wife has been warning me to drive carefully and observe every traffic rule—not new advice, but more than usual. I begin to suspect that she is a member of the 'secret half-hundred' and means to turn me in. Will this scheme be an aid to domestic felicity?" Frankly, I can't view it as contributing anything to the domestic tranquility, but you married her, and I also have my troubles.

Santa Ana business men are not superstitious. They have a Dollar Day sale scheduled for the thirteenth.

Civic customs in restless America change with the caprice of politics. Historical landmarks get a new coloration, names of streets are changed, and some areas get a new identification. In this connection it occurred to me that while passing through Pershing Square that this spot which has become a public forum might appropriately be renamed Aristotle park.

George Hubbard has a mathematical problem which, I am inclined to believe, could be solved by the participants. It's this: One of our flaming youth goes by traveling 45 miles per hour, kisses a girl in the car four times in succession. How far does he go between kisses? George, if you reduce that problem to the horse-and-buggy days, I can give you the correct answer. These "kids" are too fast for me.

The secret patrol system savors too much of the Russian O. G. P. U. to become popular in America.

Had to go to Los Angeles to visit with "Doc" Barnes of Anaheim. You know, if you want to get some news, and get a more frank admission of it, you got to go away from home for it. So when Barnes and I got to talking about frost damage, we agreed that it's heavy, but decide that a short crop means longer profits, all the same as much fruit, little money. So what's the use to moan around. Time smudges on just the same.

That traffic cop who gave me the high sign as I was passing through an intersection extended the social amenity, but totally disregarded me as a pedestrian.

Met a lad who said he was learning to operate a typewriter with blind keys. That is, the operator has to feel his way to the location of the letters that they take 'em away from you. They have a chart for you to look at, and later on they take it away from you. So, assuming that it is a case of progressive obsolescence, I asked him, when he's going to take the typewriter away from you?

Met a fellow yesterday who said he was so bothered with stomach trouble that he decided not to take a single drink, so he is taking them in the category of a kill or cure remedy.

I'm sort of beginning to feel at home again. For a time The Journal newsroom sort of took on the appearance of a vacant house. I turned a wicked left in the direction of Paul Bodenhamer's desk, and "he'd flu." Then I extended the observation to include Managing Editor Jack Ellwanger's spot, and he had also "flu." I'm not easily discouraged, so I thought maybe I'd find Bob Guild at home, and darned if he hadn't "flu" also. Well, says I, there's Paul Wright's desk, and he's a good sport, so I'll look that way. Danged if that fellow hadn't run out on me. So I begin to think what is this, an avian flu? Then I says to myself, well, you can bring the boy in from the country, but you can't take the country out of the boy, and I almost twist my neck off turning to see if "Brick" Gaines is on the job—and he is—not. Well, I've always got along, and I feel confident that Betty Guild will not fail me. She "flu" also. But with the fem exception, the force is now normal, even if the weather isn't. But the fellow who invented "flu" isn't. I'm calling list, and, what's more, I don't want him to call.
